ROBERT E. SIMS, SUNLAND TRIBUNE WRITER, DIES AT 70

ROBERT E. SIMS

Robert E. Sims, regular contributor to the Sunland Tribune—including this issue—died at his home in Brandon on Sept. 10, 1989. He was 70 years old. A native of Chicago, he had lived in the Tampa Bay area since 1935.

Sims was a member of both the Tampa and Florida Historical Societies. A retired Tampa police sergeant, he spent much time researching and writing local history. His latest article, "Of Fishes and Men," is featured in this issue of the THS Journal.

A U.S. Army veteran of World War II, Sims was a member of Brandon Christian Church Disciples of Christ.

He is survived by his widow, Flora R. Sims; one son, Lee R. Sims, Brandon; his stepfather, W. Steven Sims of Brandon; two brothers, William S. Sims, Jr., Harvard, Ill., and Wiley D. Euwer, Quincy, Ill., one grandchild and one great-grandchild.
