Jim,

All best wishes as you join me in the retired category. I have visited your library in Denver and you have visited my library in Marietta, OH, where duplicate New England books from Denver PL helped out the library of a town founded by New Englanders (the "Pioneers" of McCullough's book), so there are many good memories. Happy retirement!

EXPLORE RELIC

August 2020 - The Ruth E. Lloyd Information Center for Genealogy and Local History (RELIC)

Start your historical journey here. RELIC's email newsletter highlights upcoming free events and happenings. Genealogy and local Virginia history are our specialty as a service provided by the Prince William Public Library System. You can always find more about us at pwcgov.org/relic<<https://www.pwcgov.org/relic>>.

Central Library is currently being renovated. When that renovation is complete, tentatively set for August, RELIC will reopen in spacious new quarters there. Meanwhile, reference service by phone and email is still available. RELIC's service hours are 10:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and 10:00 a.m. - 2:00 p.m. Friday and Saturday, at 703-792-4540 and <<https://www.pwcgov.org/cdn-cgi/l/email-protection#cdbfa8a1a4aeff8dbdbaaeaaa2bbe3a2bfaa>>.

UPCOMING VIRTUAL PROGRAM

[Colonial Court Records]<<https://youtu.be/ICCz6lbKuEQ>>
UNDERSTANDING AND USING COLONIAL COURT RECORDS<<https://youtu.be/ICCz6lbKuEQ>>
Courts and their records were here from the beginnings of local government, recording the daily lives of our ancestors, including land ownership, lawsuits, and probate of estates. An understanding of the format, language, and content of these records is essential for successful research in early American genealogy.

Beginning Saturday, August 1<<https://youtu.be/ICCz6lbKuEQ>>

[<https://www.pwcgov.org/government/dept/library/constantcontact/relic/apr2017/insider.png>]

ACCESS TO FAMILYSEARCH RECORDS

RELIC is a long-time affiliate of the Family History Library (FHL) in Salt Lake City. That affiliation gives us access to many online digital records that can otherwise only be viewed at LDS FamilySearch Centers. At this time, many FamilySearch Centers are closed because of the COVID-19 pandemic. Although there are a number of affiliate libraries in Virginia, it appears that RELIC is the only one in the northern part of the state. RELIC's services are currently limited to phone and email contact, but it is often possible for us to download and email you images from digitized FHL microfilm. If you need help accessing foreign or out-of-state records, give us a call 703-792-4540 or send an email<<https://www.pwcgov.org/cdn-cgi/l/email-protection#592b3c35303a6b19292e3a3e362f77362b3e>>. We should be able to respond within a couple of days with the items you need.

Don't forget: If you are researching Prince William families or historic topics, that's where we shine. Let us help you grapple with your research questions.

FUTURE VIRTUAL PROGRAMS

[Welcome RELIC at Central Library]<<https://bit.ly/39k8Kds>>
WELCOME TO RELIC AT CENTRAL COMMUNITY LIBRARY!<<https://bit.ly/39k8Kds>>
After 25 years at the Bull Run Regional Library, the RELIC department has moved to a new home at the renovated and reopened Central Community Library. RELIC's Kirk Johnson leads this brief "virtual tour" along with an overview of the resources and materials available for patrons researching their family history or the history of our community.

Beginning Tuesday, September 1<<https://bit.ly/39k8Kds>>

[Research Your Immigrant Ancestor]<<https://bit.ly/3jwX0xS>>
RESEARCHING YOUR IMMIGRANT ANCESTOR<<https://bit.ly/3jwX0xS>>
All U.S. residents descend from immigrants. Those who arrived within the past 500 years may have a paper trail. RELIC's Don Wilson will describe passenger lists and naturalization records and how to find them.

Beginning Tuesday, September 1<<https://bit.ly/3jwX0xS>>
[<https://www.pwcgov.org/government/dept/library/constantcontact/relic/dec2016/reliclogo.png>]<<http://www.pwcgov.org/government/dept/library/pages/relic-programs.aspx>>

In a few days, Genealogical Publishing Company will release the new book *Roots For Kids. Finding Your Family Storie*s, by Susan Provost Beller. Please look for another announcement as soon as soon as this new book is available. This book should not be confused with Mrs. Beller's Roots for Kids. A Genealogy Guide for Young People. 2nd edition, published in 2007. This latter book is also being updated and will also be released in a month or two.

Hi Scott,

I can tell you that this small company (two very dedicated people) in Urbana, Illinois does very good work. You may want to call them and chat.

We have a local Bindery Company, very good work and reasonably priced. Shop locally and you won't be disappointed. Google Book Binders and get in touch with two or three with your requirements and request a price list. Good luck,

Subject: [Genealib] Introduction to Genealogical Librarianship (online class)

Message-ID: <CAAvK8hN5kWzWA0gFKC=DRUn+TbiNwFKq0YCPMW=-JoPD_7-JuA@mail.gmail.com>

In case anyone is interested, I'm reposting this from the SLA-DSOL discussion list.

You can start a week late.

Introduction to Genealogical Librarianship

Dates: September 7th through October 4th

Instructor: Sarah A.V. Kirby

Credits: 1.5 CEUs or 15 PDHs

Price: $175

<https://libraryjuiceacademy.com/shop/course/056-introduction-to-genealogical-librarianship/>

Most short courses in genealogical librarianship actually focus on genealogy and only discuss library concerns briefly. This course seeks to reverse that. While a brief introduction to genealogy will be given, the majority of the course will focus on collection development, reference interviews, programming, and support for genealogical researchers. By the end of the course you will understand how genealogy reference interviews differ from normal reference interviews. You will also be familiar with the core print and online references needed to support most basic genealogical questions. Finally, you will have been introduced to some of the resources that can help you develop programming or be used in other ways to support your genealogical reference activities.

Sarah A.V. Kirby is a librarian, professional genealogist, teacher, and rocket scientist (aerospace engineer). As a genealogist her specialization is in New England, New York, and the Midwest. Sarah holds a Masters in Library and Information Science from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee and a Professional Learning Certificate in Genealogical Studies, concentrating in Genealogical Librarianship, from the National Institute for Genealogical Studies. Starting out as the lead volunteer librarian for the Lake County (IL) Genealogical Society, she was a corporate librarian for over a decade. In late 2016 she became the full-time Genealogy and Archives Librarian at the Huntington [Indiana] City-Township Public Library. She also operates a library services consulting firm, Appletree Knowledge Services. In her first career, she worked at NASA's Mission Control and worked in the Space Shuttle, Astronaut on Mir, and Space Station programs.

Course Structure

This is an online class that is taught asynchronously, meaning that participants do the work on their own time as their schedules allow. The class does not meet together at any particular times, although the instructor may set up optional synchronous chat sessions. Instruction includes readings and assignments in one-week segments. Class participation is in an online forum environment.

Payment Info

We accept registrations through the first week of classes, unless enrollment is full, and unless the class was canceled before it started due to low enrollment. The "Register" button on the website goes to our credit card payment gateway, which may be used with personal or institutional credit cards. (Be sure to use the appropriate billing address). If your institution wants us to send a billing statement or wants to pay using a purchase order, please contact us by email to make arrangements: inquiries at libraryjuiceacademy.com
