We had a donation of family books that we do not need. If anyone can use them I would love to get them a home. They are:

*The Hertzler-Hartzler Family HHistory* by Silas Hertzler, 1952

*The Harbert and Miller Family History 1780-1996* compiled by Carolyn Immel Nelson, 1996. This one seems to have a Stark County/Wayne County in Ohio connection.

Thanks,
Sarah

Subject: [Genealib] Search form for Microsoft Access database

Message-ID: <CAAU-YbE-PfdGEVycaz_8vSQmpoaJA-NbHP6RQZRg_2eJXghX4g@mail.gmail.com>

We have created several databases from our local newspaper going back to 1880. They are Microsoft Access files covering local obituaries, marriages, births and other items. Each database contains up to nine separate columns including the person's name, spouse, father, mother, newspaper date and so on. We would like to have search forms which could be placed on our website that would allow patrons to search the indexes. Ideally, these search forms would be capable of searching a single column or several of the columns of data at once. In addition, since these projects are ongoing, we would need to update each database periodically. Does anyone have experience with this? How did you create the search form? Did you use a vendor? If your library has something similar that doesn't use Microsoft Access, what do you use? Thanks.

If your servers will run it, a simple MySQL database and a couple of PHP pages would be more than sufficient to do what you've outlined.

February 2020 - The Ruth E. Lloyd Information Center for Genealogy and Local History (RELIC)

Start your historical journey here. RELIC's email newsletter highlights upcoming free events and happenings. Genealogy and local Virginia history is our specialty as a service provided by the Prince William Public Library. We're located at Bull Run Regional Library and you can always find more about us at www.pwcgov.org/library/relic

African-American Genealogy: Tracking Families Before the Civil War

Discovering African American family history prior to 1865 can be difficult. There are special challenges to finding documentation during the age of slavery. RELIC's Don Wilson will identify sources that can be used to trace lives and relationships while demonstrating the process using a case study approach.

Tuesday, February 25, 7:00 - 8:30 p.m. at Bull Run Regional Library.<<http://pwcgov.evanced.info/eventssignup.asp?ID=69491&rts=&disptype=&ret=eventcalendar.asp&pointer=&returnToSearch=&num=0&ad=&dt=mo&mo=2/1/2020&df=calendar&EventType=ALL&Lib=ALL&AgeGroup=ALL&LangType=0&WindowMode=&noheader=&lad=&pub=1&nopub=&page=&pgdisp=>>

A School of Their Own: Industrial Education in Post-Reconstruction Virginia

In late 19th century Virginia, educational opportunities for African Americans were slim. Jennie Dean, a former slave, was inspired to uplift her people. Learn how vision, faith, and exceptional fundraising established an industrial school for young people of color in Manassas. Presented by Ellie Hill from the Manassas Museum.

*Using Genealogical Research and Nonfiction Writing to Write Your Family History

Why is it important to write your family history? You've done the research. You know the stories. Now it's time to share your findings with family, the genealogical community, and generations to come. Author and genealogist, Char McCargo-Bah, will teach you how to convert your research into an engaging and interesting narrative.

Buffalo Soldiers During the Civil War

By the end of the Civil War, 200,000 black soldiers were serving in the Federal Army. After the war, many decided not to return to a life of sharecropping and racial oppression, instead volunteering to battle outlaws and Indian raiders along the western frontier. This program uses reenactments and the expertise of military historians to tell the story of the Buffalo Soldiers, a name given to black troops by their Native American adversaries.

We are trying to have more Internet sites available for our patrons that use our genealogy room in our local library. Does anyone have any suggestions as to online sites to find newspapers. We have a subscription to newspaper.com <<http://newspaper.com/>> but need more than just this site.

A library located about 30 miles from us was set on fire two days ago and everything was destroyed. They had been so kind as to loan us their film when we had a request published in their local newspaper but now all that is gone. Not only did they lose everything but the biggest loss was the two firefighters who died while fighting the fire.

For an excellent feel of the newspaper landscape, I recommend you visit The Ancestor Hunt, a site organized by Ken Marks. Thousands upon thousands of links to free newspaper resources organized by state and information on the collections of the subscription sites so you can determine which one is a good fit for your library.

A Free Site for Newspapers listed on the attachment.

The site is newspapers.com but through SHSMO.Org - therefore it is free. This is for Missouri Only...?

Good Afternoon,

We recently spoke on the phone about needing a hard cartridge compatible Microfilm machine or toner. The model of our Microfilm machine is Canon Microfilm Scanner 400 and Canon Fileprint 300 printer. The manual stated that these other models would be compatible with ours Canon NP-P880, NP-P980, PC-P80, and DMP100.

I thank you so kindly for offering to help us in our search to fill this request. Let me know if you need any further information.

You don't say exactly where your library is, but from your email, it seems you're in California. It makes a difference. Since there is no single site for newspapers. For instance, one of my favorite sites is Old Fulton Postcards, but since that is mainly New York papers, you're probably not interested in it.

A favorite list of sites -

<https://sites.google.com/site/onlinenewspapersite/> (a bit dated, but most links still work)

Of course - ChroniclingAmerica at <https://chroniclingamerica.loc.gov/>, not only for the digitized papers, but also for their searchable newspaper directory

A great search engine - <https://elephind.com/>

Finally, you can search for "California Digital Newspaper Project" [works for most states]. The content on these sites may be duplicates of the Chronicling America papers, but they may not be. Link for California - <https://cdnc.ucr.edu/>

My thoughts and prayers to the Porterville folks.

You can give it a look at MyHeritage newspapers collections
It includes not only US but other european countries with automatic translations on the search and result page
And the ?Library? edition has remote access for patrons

Here is the link to this event

<https://conference.ngsgenealogy.org/ngs-2020-librarians-day/> This day includes lunch and syllabus all for the low price of $20.

The schedule for the day:

- *Serving Genealogical Researchers at Public Libraries* ? Ari Wilkins
- *Researching the West: Denver Public Library - *Patricia Jordan Roberts
- *Calamity Janes, Cowboys, and Catalog Women: Researching Frontier Men and Women in Newspapers* ? Allison DePrey Singleton, MA, MLS
- *Soldiers, Sailors, and Marines: Guarding and Patrolling our Western Frontier - * Michael L. Strauss, AG

It is a great way to network with other librarian's/volunteers who serve the genealogical community.

Hi All;

I am curious what thoughts are on the Series 1 and 2 of the African American Newspapers from Newsbank? Does your library use it? Have patrons found it helpful/useful?

Thank you!
