September 1978

Juan M. Garcia oral history interview by Otis R. Anthony and members of the Black History Research Project of Tampa, September 6, 1978

Juan M. Garcia (Interviewee)

Otis R. Anthony (Interviewer)
COPYRIGHT NOTICE

This Oral History is copyrighted by the University of South Florida Libraries Oral History Program on behalf of the Board of Trustees of the University of South Florida.

Copyright, 2009, University of South Florida. All rights reserved.

This oral history may be used for research, instruction, and private study under the provisions of the Fair Use. Fair Use is a provision of the United States Copyright Law (United States Code, Title 17, section 107), which allows limited use of copyrighted materials under certain conditions. Fair Use limits the amount of material that may be used.

For all other permissions and requests, contact the UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH FLORIDA LIBRARIES ORAL HISTORY PROGRAM at the University of South Florida, 4202 E. Fowler Avenue, LIB 122, Tampa, FL 33620.
La Union Martí-Maceo
Mr. Garcia is a member of La Union Martí-Maceo, the club for black Cubans. In Spanish, he describes some of the significant officers and members. It has about 350 members.

Jose Martí and Antonio Maceo
Martí was a revolutionary from the Cuban war of independence. Mr. Garcia lists several dates in Spanish. Maceo died in San Pedro, Cuba. “He’s a colored man, a big man.” When Martí came to speak at the cigar factories, people crowded around to talk to him. Martí was white and Maceo was black. Maceo went to Key West, Honduras, and other places.

Martí spoke at many of the cigar factories in Tampa. He was an organizer who made propaganda and collected money for Cuban independence. He also went to New York to do this. He did not have much influence on the other races outside the Cuban community. Martí died fighting in Santiago de Cuba.

For Tampa Cubans, Martí and Maceo’s influence is still strong and always will be.

Cigar factories
Mr. Garcia came to Tampa from Cuba in 1922. There were about twenty cigar factories then, which are all gone now. “There is no factory now in Tampa.” The cigars are made by machines now, not by hand.

There were many black Cubans working in the factories. Mr. Garcia worked in the Perfecto Garcia factory, which had about 500 workers, more than forty of whom were black. After the revolution in Cuba, the factory was closed.