Note to Contributors

1. Papers should be submitted online at http://scholarcommons.usf.edu/ijs through the “Submit Article” link. Texts should be typed 1.5 line spaced and have continuous numbered lines, preferably using Times New Roman 12 pt font, and should contain all figures, tables or plates. Authors cite in the form (Palmer & Palmer, 2000a); for more than two authors cite in the form (Klimchouk & Tommasino L. (Eds.) – 2001). All references should be quoted. Tables should be supplied with appropriate captions, and kept as simple as possible.

2. After the review process is completed, each table should be supplied in separate files. Figures should be numbered using Arabic numerals, e.g. “Fig. 1.”

3. Authors should preferably be written in English. Authors using a language other than their own are requested to have their manuscripts checked for linguistic correctness before submission. SI system units should be used. Dates should be in the form “5 February 1975”, numbers as 21.6ºC (and not 12,6ºC). Complex formulas and equations should be inserted in the text but after the review process is completed; these must also be sent separately as good-quality .jpg files.

4. Abstracts should be headed by a title, the full name(s), business address(es) and e-mail address(es) of the authors. If the abstract is more than 250 words, plus full details of parts held by the author(s) and more than one author, the name of the person to whom correspondence and proofs should be sent must be followed by *. Abstract should be short and summarise the contents of the paper. Authors should provide five keywords after the abstract. Keywords are separated by a ;. Articles can be structured in 3 orders of headings: e.g. GEOLOGY, Lithology, mineralogical characteristics. See recent issues for examples.

5. Each paper will be subject to editorial review by three referees. The Editorial Staff reserves the right to refuse any manuscript submitted, whether by invitation or otherwise, and to make suggestions and modifications before publication. Submitted papers should be in a final form ready for publication. Make sure figures are of good quality. Correction to proofs should be restricted to printing and editorial errors only. Other than these, the cost of very substantial alterations may be charged to the author(s).

6. Bibliographical references should be listed in alphabetical and chronological order at the end of the paper. Journal names should not be abbreviated. See most recent issues for examples. References should be in the following forms:
