Julian Bond Calls For National Rent Control

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF. -- A National Rent Board, with a 50 percent tenant membership, to control rising rents for middle and low-income Americans was proposed here last weekend. Speaking to the National Tenants Organization's annual conference here, Georgia State Representative Julian Bond also suggested that rent increases be tied to services. "If there is no service, no maintenance, then let there be no rent," Bond said. "The complaint that triggers federal action ought not have to come from the tenant who has no light or heat or water, but from the landlord who has no rent.

Bond reminded the NTO conference that "more than a quarter century after the original promise to provide every American family with a healthful liveable home, over one-sixth of our population still lives in dangerous, substandard yet still expensive housing."

Bond urged support of the Congressional Black Caucus' call for fair housing and urban development requests to President Nixon and advocated greater political militancy by NTO members. "We must begin to see the inevitability of the grounding of each separate struggle for homes, for jobs, for freedom, for control of our lives in common political action," Bond said.

NTO is comprised of nearly 30 affiliated fair housing groups, tenant councils, and tenant unions. Its chairman is Jessee Gray, long-time labor strike leader and political activist.
"CRIME STOPPERS"  Successful Burglarizing of a home is for the most part committed by people you don't even know. All too often, thousands of dollars worth of blood, sweat and tears are pouring down the drain because someone failed to lock the milkman. With the accumulation that results, it is not difficult to see why prospective burglar to pinpoint his "next best."  An "stopper," Sheriff's Community Relations Bureau, advises citizens to use the following techniques: 1. When leaving on vacation, notify the milkman and milkman to hold his daily milk. 2. Lock the house at all times. 3. Whenever the milkman delivers, open the door and talk to the milkman. 4. Any door in the vicinity of your house. 5. If you notice that your home had been burglarized, notify the police immediately. 6. If you are interested in the project, our office would be interested in your support. 7. If you want to report a theft in your neighborhood, please contact the police. 8. If you have any other suggestions, please contact us.

MAN INDICTED FOR RAPE OF NEW COLLEGE STUDENT

The Tallahassee Grand Jury returned an indictment against 19-year-old Donald Slaton, who was accused of raping an 18-year-old New College student last week. The student was reportedly attacked on a city bus and taken to a nearby hospital. Slaton is expected to be arraigned later today.

ASSAULTS

Mrs. Delia Housby, 50, of 905 W. Union, reported to police that she was attacked by a man who tried to stab her with a knife. The victim said she was walking down the street when she was approached by a man who tried to stab her with a knife. The victim was able to get away and phone the police. The man was later arrested and charged with assault.

Burglary

Mrs. Fredonia Bryant Williams, 51, of 605 W. Union, reported to police that she was burglarized last week. The victim said she was asleep when she was awakened by her dog barking. When she went downstairs, she discovered that her purse was missing. The purse contained $500 and several credit cards. The victim was able to get a description of the burglar and the police are currently investigating the case.

COURTHOUSE CAPERS

Thefts

A one year old woman registred the day that broke into her house. The woman said that she was assaulted when she was forced to enter her home. The police are currently investigating the case.

Tampa's Hit-And-Run Driver Jailed

Tampa woman arrested and charged Francisco Paddis this week as the driver of the car involved in a fatal hit-and-run accident on W. Palm last Friday night. It was reported that Charlie Ar- ture Surrency, 62, 1504 North 20th Avenue, gave Mrs. Arture Surrency, 62, 1504 North 20th Avenue, a ride in his car on the morning of the accident. When the car hit a pedestrian, Paddis reportedly stopped the car and fled the scene.

Vice Officers Arrest Four For Narcotics Violations

City of Tampa vice officers arrested three men and a woman on charges of possession of barbiturates, speed and marijuana. All arrests were made at separate incidents.

Death Of 100-Year-Old Woman Caused By Twenty Blows On Head

An excess of twenty lacerations on the head was said to be the cause of death in the fatal beating of 100-year-old Mrs. Sally Ryan, 508 E. Oak Avenue. The investigation revealed that clothing from the scene was taken as evidence by policemen. Mrs. Ryan was allegedly beaten to death with a baseball bat.

'CRIME STO PPE RS'

The police pulled their vehicles along side a 1960 Volvo at the traffic sign and saw Lyons toss a hydrometer needle out the window. An inspection of the vehicle revealed 17 amphetamine tablets in his jacket. Lyons told the officers that he had lost his jacket to his girlfriend and didn't know that pills were still in the pocket when he put it on.

Black Evangelist Starts Integration
At All-White Christian Church

By MARTHA WHITE
Sentinel Staff Writer

A dynamic 32 year old black evangelist rendering the revival services at the Broad Street Christian Church, has succeeded in starting to integrate the previously all-white congregation.

Thurman Jenkins, from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, said integration is when there is a 40-60 ratio of any number and with one woman joining during his revival services at Broad Street, the congregation is just in the process of being integrated.

Jenkins, the pastor of Bushton Christian Church in Pittsburgh, with a predominantly black congregation, came to Tampa to render the services at the invitation of David Collins, the white minister at Broad Street Christian Church. Collins said they always welcome blacks to attend and join their church but only small children came. After Jenkins arrived they conducted a house-to-house campaign to personally invite and welcome the people in the community. Some of the attended the week-long service but only one joined and with the services ending tonight Friday Jenkins feels that he has accomplished something during his stay here.

"Most of the black people felt that they shouldn't come to the church because it was a white church," Collins said. He wanted to show them that they were welcome and he decided to invite Jenkins. "When I knocked on a door they acted as if I had the wrong house and quickly said no upon being asked to attend meetings at the church, but with Jenkins accompanying me, they feel more at ease," he continued.

Jenkins said they always welcomed more at ease, "he continued.

The sentinel of the universe is when there is a 40-60 ratio thing during his stay here.

Jenkins, married and the father of seven, is originally from Dallas, Texas. He graduated with a B.A. degree from the College of Scriptures in Louisville, Kentucky. He is a member of the Jenkins Four Quartet along with his wife, his brother and sister-in-law.

He started the church in Pittsburgh seven years ago and alone Collins and Jenkins feel that the gun each time. On the third time around, while pointing the gun at Francine, the girl pulled out a small pistol, striking the girl in the mouth.

One person who witnessed the shooting said the girl holding the gun was high on drugs when she shot Francine.

Police are still investigating the shooting. Francine is reported in fair condition at Thomas General Hospital.

SEVEN BURGLARY SUSPECTS ARRESTED AFTER BRIEF CHASE A 17 year old girl "accidentally" shot in the mouth while in a restroom at the New Lounge, 1029 5th Street, was turned over to police as a victim of a reverse type game of Russian roulette.

Francie Davis, 17, 201 W. Oak, told police that she was showing a gun to some friends of hers and told them it wasn't loaded. One of the girls took the gun and starting pointing it at first one girl and then another, clicking the gun each time. On the third time around, while pointing the gun at Francine, the girl pulled out a small pistol, striking the girl in the mouth.

One person who witnessed the shooting said the girl holding the gun was high on drugs when she shot Francine.

Police are still investigating the shooting. Francine is reported in fair condition at Thomas General Hospital.

NO TRENDS, Eh?

Not to be argumentative about an unprovable point, but it is to be conceded that the experts are correct in suggesting there was something lacking in the scattered elections just held to point specifically to any major trend for 1972. That be as it may, one would have to be naive to have missed one very crucial lesson, one that erudite politicians took note of even if they do not broadcast their findings.

It is this simple fact: white moderates and minority voters can win most major elections in most sections of the country in any political situation where they show up and show as much election interest as conservatives.

Judgment, as it were, is the key to the Cleveland election, or unceivable conscience, as in Minneapolis and Philadelphia, lead to defeats. For 1972, Republicans have a pretty much schmoozed position of unity and their biggest worry would have to be that Arnold Pinkney in Mississippi would happen to them, that the Democrats with political domination majority would get themselves together and roll up a massive vote and a sure win.

The Democrats are still in the division state and have a worry about the possibility of something like what happened to Arnold Pinkney in Mississippi would happen to them, that is, the Republicans would sneak back in again while they dissipated their advantage in philosophical and personality angles.

It may not be what the experts would call a trend, but don't be permitted to see the facts, who've been whipping the air pushing harder for unity, and the Republicans, who now have their score, fostering Democratic division wherever possible.

dodging the responsibility it has both under the Supreme Court's ruling and the U. S. Constitution's provisions, to make speed with dispatch toward a unitary public education system.

Justice to black children seems the last of the things the House of Representatives was concerned about in its uninteresting anti-busing legislation.

USF OFFERS DEGREE PROGRAM FOR THE WORKING ADULT

Many people's life-styles are incompatible with resident university degree programs, especially if life is at oddsmakers, or if you are in business, or there is a family to hold together.

But if you had a shot at earning a degree program, what would you do?

Until educational pioneers 'went educational pioneers' went to school, there was little chance one would give it a shot, for the student would have to steal away from his old-time to-do list to attend the school in slow, demanding, arduous process.

That is why educators at the University of South Florida in Tampa formulated the Bachelor of Independent Studies (BIS) adult degree program. The BIS, an unqualified adult, 25 or older, with a high school diploma or high school equivalency can earn a full fledged degree in interdisciplinary studies, with individualized curricula. The BIS student is on a curriculum of four study areas - Science, Humanities and inter-area studies. In each area the student is responsible for two units - independent study through books, tapes, correspondence, and selected readings in which the student utilizes what time he has available and moves ahead as his schedule allows, and a short-term on-campus seminar upon completion of each course. The program is not faced with a quarter or semester system.

BIS is presently the only full-scale program of its kind in the South, and one of very few throughout the world. BIS is now opening up for full enrollment and has enrolled businesswomen, secretaries, factory workers, selected citizens and housewives, among others from New York to Miami to Kentucky.

BIS brochures are available by writing the Director, BIS Program, University of South Florida, Tampa, Florida, 33600.

GOD ESTABLISHES MORAL ORDER
Exodus 20:3; Romans 12:14; 2:28-29; Galatians 6:10

We live in a day when there has been a serious breakdown in morality. People seem to feel that he is free to do what he pleases, regardless of the situation he is in which he finds himself. This kind of behavior is described by some as “living by the seat of one’s pants.” It means that there is no standard of right and wrong, there are moral principles, and it is left to each person according to the situation at hand.

When we see this kind of approach, we have forgotten that we were once taught that there is such a thing as an absolute standard by which we all live and that regardless of the situation, right is always right and wrong is always wrong.

There is no question that we live in a day of change. There are standards by which we must live or we will be lost. There are situations that concern us about the coming to be from the world that we cannot understand. This kind of behavior is described by some as “living by the seat of one’s pants.” It means that there is no standard of right and wrong, there are moral principles, and it is left to each person according to the situation at hand.

Living the circumspect life requires that we live by the standard of right and wrong, that we are always right and wrong is always wrong.

It is difficult for us to do right, there are times when our moral principles are not followed, and sometimes we do wrong. Sometimes it seems as if evil is the way of the day and the people who are going contrary to the standard of right and wrong are having it all their way, those who are living immorally seem to be on top of it. So we say, “What’s the use?” There is a tendency to give up and quit. But Paul tells us that we should not be weary of doing good. We must always do what is right, regardless of the situation, right is always right and wrong is always wrong.

We live in a moral universe. That which we sow will also reap.

Living the circumspect life means that there is such a thing as an absolute standard by which we all live and that regardless of the situation, right is always right and wrong is always wrong.

Living the circumspect life means that we must live by the standard of right and wrong, that we are always right and wrong is always wrong.

Here’s hopping a speedy recovery for Miss Gloria Yvett Brown who celebrated her natal day on Sunday, November 17. The celebration included sisters, Deborah Bonds and Kathy Brown brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Beaman of 80th Avenue. Miss Brown is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel (Ruby) Johnson of 80th Avenue.

The Executive Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has appointed a committee to act as a body to accept the Leadership of Chief Warrant Officer E. E. McMillan as the chairman of the Membership Drive new under the direction of Mr. LeRoy "Sunny" Grant as a goal membership of less than five thousand (5,000).

CWO KELLY E. BODDEN

When we consider that there are 66,786 black citizens in Hillsborough County, we find that it is not difficult for the organization to get 5,000 members. In the present climate where we owe to ourselves and our children to support the organization, we must find the leadership of this committee and ensure that this drive will not be a five-thousand-member drive.

SOUL CITY FOUNDER VISITS UNITED STATES COMMERCE DEPARTMENT

Floyd McKissick, second right, former director of the Congress of Racial Equality and founder of Soul City, greeted government officials while attending a luncheon sponsored by the Commerce Department's Office of Minority Business Enterprise. Explaining his project, McKissick said Soul City is to be conceived in Warren County, N.C., between Lake Gaston and Kerr Lakes. McKissick said the city, with a population of 30,000, should be completed by 1980 with financing through banks, insurance companies and the federal government. McKissick was joined after the luncheon by, left to right: Stanley S. Scott, Assistant Director of Communications for the Executive Branch, White House; Brad Patterson, staff assistant at the White House; Robert J. Brown, Special Assistant at the White House; Robert J. Brown, Special Assistant of Minority Business Enterprise; McKissick and Ronald R. Lee, Assistant Postmaster General.

With Luck’ Vida’s Record Would Look Even Sharper

OAKLAND, Calif.—Vida Blue at the age of 22 has become the youngest winner of the Cy Young Award, actually pitched better than his glittering 24-8 record.

With even moderate support at the right times, the sensational southpaw might have been 27-8 for the Athletics. Someone once said that it isn't how well you pitch, but when.

It’s true Vida tired somewhat at the end. By the All-Star Games, he'd worked 189% innings. By the end of the season, he had pitched 312. He never had worked in more than 172 innings in any one of his previous full seasons.

Unaccustomed to this amount of work and ground down somewhat by the pressure of publicity, Blue was not his overwhelming decisions were 1-0, including self of the early games to win, 1-0. and by that time, Blue was long gone. By the All-Star Games, Blue was long gone. With Luck’ Vida’s Record Would Look Even Sharper

QUESTION: Who Will Win The Spartans-Battlers Game This Year?

ERNEST JONES, 1309 Spruce Trrr, lab tech: “I believe the Spartans will win because they have a small wager saying Tampa will win.”

THOMAS BURTON, 308 E. I Oalt, teacher: “My choice is the Spartans—because they are playing for Robinson—who are playing for Robinson.”

ARLINGTON T. PEAK, 302 W. Spruce Ave., general Electric: “I am going with experience, depth and height, the Spartans.”

JUDE MILLER, 308 E. I Oalt, teacher: “I believe the Spartans will win the game, but not by a very large score. However, it should be a good game with a close score.”

CRAIG FLICKER, 308 E. I Oalt, teacher: “I think the Spartans will win by at least 10 runs. I contribute this to spirit, enthusiasm and the will to put forth their best effort to win.”

All Cuts His Weights For Bout With Buster

HOUSTON — Muhammad Ali reduced his weight to 214 pounds Monday by sparring eight rounds with four partners while preparing for his scheduled 152-pound Nov. 17 Astrodome match with Buster Mathis. All had weighed 228 when he checked in Sunday. He said he plans a workout today that will leave him at 222.

Meanwhile, Mathis, expressing a desire to hold his weight at 228 to 232...
Medics Repair Knee—Stretch Sees Big Year

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. — Willie McCovey is recuperating satisfactorily from his left-knee operation and looking forward to next season.

Analysis shows the Giant's powerful first baseman had a productive 1971, despite the bandage of painful injuries.

It wasn't a great year for big Willie. That's because his ailing knee, plus an injury to his left hand in September, limited his participation to 192 games, some of these as a pinch-hitter.

"But of the home runs I hit," McCovey pointed out, "not as many went to waste as in the past."

"Even though I had only 18 home runs, I feel as if they meant as much to the team as in some years when I've hit 30." Improved utilization of hits was one of the Giants' keys to the West Division championship, in McCovey's opinion.

"We got hits at the right time often through the season," Stretch noted, "with a lot of different guys contributing them."

It was the first year McCovey has produced fewer than 30 home runs since 1964. He peaked at 45 in 1969 and clouted 39 in 1970. This season's 18 exactly tied Stretch's 1964 and 1961 outputs, and in both years he played more games.

In 1970 years as a Giant, McCovey has blasted 376 balls out of National League parks. His 70 runs batted in for 1971 lifted his career RBI total past the 1,000 mark—to 1,055.

Without big Willie, the Giants simply wouldn't have won in the West. Yet the season failed to live up to its bright promises for him.

"It was in the best shape of my life last spring," McCovey recalled. "I felt great. It was almost too good to be true. Then I first hurt my left knee in a rundown when we played the Angels in an exhibition game in Palm Springs. I aggravated the injury in an exhibition with the Dodgers in Arizona. I kept on aggravating the knee, especially in St. Louis the first Sunday of the regular season."

Plan For Mid-Season Surgery Changed

His knee was sore most of the time, and in mid-season McCovey was all set to have an operation. Planned on the disabled list, he flew to Los Angeles with full intention of having his torn cartilage repaired by Dr. Robert Kerlan.

"But the Giants and I had been too optimistic about how long it would take me to recover from such an operation," McCovey explained. "Dr. Kerlan said I probably wouldn't have been able to play again this year."

"He also told me that with cortisone I could make it through the season, playing some. So I decided it would be wise to postpone the operation—especially with our club battling for the pennant."

"I'm very glad I could have it nearer home, at Stanford," McCovey said. "Dr. Frederick Behling, who performed the operation at Stanford University Medical Center, called the cartilage repair a success." "My knee was very sore afterward for the first day or so," Stretch reported, "but they got me up for a little while on crutches only two days after the operation."

"I'm to take more and more exercise, day by day. I'll do a lot of tension exercises, raising my leg and so on, until I get off crutches."

Willie McCovey...Two more years in majors.

Manny Sanguillen who banged 11 singles and a double - Stargell said. "When you do the job, you do the job..."

The Braves' first knee injury occurred in 1965, when he injured his left knee which underwent major surgery last August.

In fact, the physician who did the surgery, Dr. Anthony Pisani, reportedly told Pirates he can play winter baseball if that is his desire.

"He said if I wanted to play," said the Braves' first baseman, "to go ahead, start playing.

It is doubtful that Cepeda will participate in winter ball, but he said he probably will take batting practice a couple of times a week with an amateur team managed by former major league player Vic Daval.

"I'm running now...almost every day," said the first baseman who is running in the Brooks and Smith weight room.

Cepeda's first knee injury occurred in 1965, when he injured his right knee. Many observers thought he never would play again after that injury, but Cepeda came back.

He injured his left knee last season in the early part of the campaign. At St. Louis Cepeda attempted to shut it off, but that didn't do any good and the pain continued to nag the 34-year-old slugger.

The Braves finally convicted Cepeda whencesso under­went Aug. 13 in New York.

ATLANTA, Ga. - The Braves received some good news the other day when it was revealed that Orlando Cepeda is running in the Brooks and Smith weight room trying to get himself back into condition on a left knee which underwent major surgery last August.

Middleton School Scene Of African Extravaganza

The Middleton Community School Program will hold its "An African Extravaganza" on Saturday evening, November 13th at 7:30 P.M. This program will take place in the school's cafetorium and will be presented by The Black Poetic Justice. After the program, a dance will be held in the gymnasium. A small admission fee is asked.

The program will feature original poetry and dramatic material authored by Miss Barbara Shoppard, Miss Shoppard, a sophomore at Leto Comprehensive School presents an anticlimactic, vivid talent of literary genius in her quixotic attempt to commemorate her deep-rooted blackness through poetry and drama. The event will not only present her work, but will also reflect her impressive ability to direct.

Frontiers Club Elects Officers

The Tampa Chapter of the Frontiers of America elected officers Wednesday at the weekly luncheon at Roland Park in Carver City.

Clyde Andrews, founder of the club fifteen years ago and has served as president since, asked to be re-elected because of illness which prevents him from performing as he should. He led C. V. Stewart, Howard Harris, and Dr. M. Silas, the members pledged fuller cooperation to lighten the burden of the president.

Officers elected were: C. Rhyte Andrews, president; Dr. M. T. Silas, vice-president; Howard Harris, secretary, L. L. DuPree, treasurer, to succeed the late E. E. Broughton who was killed recently in a car wreck.

The Frontiers will meet again Wednesday at 1:30 at Roland Park.

Seven Burglary

One of the arrested youths kicked the door. Then two or three of the youths ran across the street and jumped in the car. The rest followed.

The policemen pulled up behind the car just as they were about to drive away from the scene and yelled for them to stop. The car pulled away from the chub and attempted to evade the officers.

At this point, Officer Carrington fired two shots at the car with a shotgun breaking out a window. Officer Latimer then fired two shots at the car, and the car refused to stop at all and continued to work, but will also reflect her impressive ability to direct.

At this point, Officer Carrington fired two shots at the car with a shotgun breaking out a window. Officer Latimer then fired two shots at the scene, and the car refused to stop after four shots were fired at them. Finally, one of the policemen shot out a rear tire causing the car to go out of control and into a ditch.

All seven were arrested and the juveniles were placed on the dock before being sent to Lake Madalene Juvenile Home. None of the youths were wounded by the gunfire.
