Sentinel Editor Denies Blame For King High Disorders

The editor of the Sentinel-Bulletin Monday termed "ridiculous" charges that an article in last Tuesday's Sentinel-Bulletin was an attack on King High School. The charges against the Sentinel-Bulletin were leveled in daily newspaper articles about the incident Saturday and Sunday. The editor's statement was made in causing a disturbance Friday at King. In the event, the witness office suffered a barrage of calls Friday afternoon from white reporters demanding in the name of the Sentinel reporter who wrote the story.

C. Hythe Andrews, Jr., editor of the Sentinel, said a reporter checked out the story Monday after the mother of the black youth involved in a five-day suspension at King complained to the Sentinel that her son had been beaten by the white ball monitors and later handcuffed to a chair in the principal's office.

"The implication by all seeking information about the story is that the story's cause was not checked out," Andrews said. "A Sentinel reporter checked the story and went to the school Monday in an effort to set the truth on record in the entire story by the black youth's story and the white youth's story. Other out or would not talk about the incident and refused to check the story further. The principal assistant, Mr. Brogden, did not have the chance to either refute the story or state a position in the principal's office, which is not his function. He asked the assistant principal and the principal assistant to check the report. The report states that the story was not checked out.

"Even if missed by the daily articles and Mr. Stewart's proponent charge on television, the concept of blame must still rest with King High officials who purportedly waited on this for five days while blacks and whites threatened each other about 'rumble.' The Sentinel-Bulletin has never been and will never be in the business of stirring up tension and cataloging disorders among blacks and whites. On the contrary, our record during the past twenty-seven years of cooperating with officials in matters of race speaks for itself. It is therefore regrettable and utterly ridiculous for county school officials to say the book of blame to the Sentinel-Bulletin for their own poor, poor handling of the King High situation

SUCCESS BLESSING FOR THREE IN HELL

Are you in need of help today? If so we write you today. Are you sick, distressed? Confused or even unhappy in your home, try to write us. We have been blamed as the cause. Yes to the day, seven days after the story of the boy and the boy himself, maintain that their story about the incident is true. To this day, officials of the school and their principal have not made a statement to us refuting the boy's story.

The Sentinel-Bulletin has always stood on the principle that the black community is entitled to

Dewey Richardson

Dewey A. Richardson, well known Union Athletic League Commissioner, was discharged from the Sentinel-Bulletin office last Wednesday after being accompanied by Freddie Barja, also a well known politician and former athletic manager.

Richardson has been confined to the hospital for several days after being shot by an unknown person on the morning of Saturday last. He has been told several times in the hospital that he has been shot.

While his sight is improved, Mr. Richardson was alert and able to make a stirring speech about the late W. W. Ammons, former editor of the Sentinel-Bulletin publisher.

MOTHER HELD FOR SHOOTING HER 5 YEAR OLD CHILD

A 43-year-old mother is being held in the Hillsborough County Jail for assault and battery in connection with the shooting of her five-year-old daughter Saturday morning.

City of Tampa policeman P. M. Evans said he was dispatched to 409 James Street shortly before nine that morning to investigate a shooting. Upon arrival at the house he was met by Mrs. Louise Johnson, who said her daughter had shot herself.

The woman said she had a .22 caliber revolver lying on the bed and the child picked it up and accidently shot herself.

NEAR DISORDER CONDITION REPORTED ON CENTRAL AVE.

Tension grew in the historic area of Central Avenue Sunday night when a large gathering of people had to be dispersed to prevent a disorder in the area.

Police reported that hundreds of angry people gathered following the arrest of a man. The only act of violence reported was a brick thrown out the window by a youth. The man police started the crowd to gather.

A witness in the area at the time of the disturbance told the police that a fight between a youth and a policeman started the crowd to gather.

Two policemen walking the beat on Central tried to stop a fight between two teenagers.

The youngster was sent to Tampa General with a bullet wound in the back and the right forearm. After being treated by the attending physician in the emergency room the girl was admitted to the hospital.

The child was questioned by police later on to find out how she could describe the shooting. The child said her mother shot her because she didn’t clean up her room.

Mrs. Johnson was arrested at the hospital for assault to murder. Bond for her was set at $10,000.

The area is subject to much social action. Gilder had said the city has expended a great amount of money to control the area. The area has been a subject of controversy for several weeks.

HUMAN RELATIONS PROBLEMS CONSIDERED AT CONFERENCE

There was a meeting last week attended by the participants were, from left, Mrs. Lorett Williams, Al Maroger, Cal Collins and Mrs. Peggy Johnson.

Frontiers Invitations Out this Week

Frontiers’ invitations for the Frontier’s 16th annual awards banquet will be sent out this week according to Richard Price, chair of the banquet committee.

Only 100 are available and they may be obtained from any of the 44 members who may have come left.

Dr. John Middlelin, Pres. of Florida State University, is the guest speaker.

Youth Beaten, Robbed

Nathan Johnson, 16, 3103 33rd Street, told police that two juveniles attacked him Sunday night at 2200 33rd Street and took his wallet containing $14.

Johnson said that one of the boys beat him while the other one took his wallet. Police officers observed Johnson at 34th Street and Buffalo Avenue following the assault, and transported him to the scene of the crime.

Checker Player Found Dead

BALTMCORE — Larry Hooker, known checker player, was found dead with a woman in his car in the Baltimore area. The body was carried from the scene by two officers.

Police said the body was found in a vacant building.

Youth Killed In Gunfight With Columbus Police

COLUMBUS, Ga. — A 17-year-old black youth was shot and killed by police officers Friday night during a chase and gun battle between two cars.

The victim, Carey Elliott Lykes, was in a car with five other black youths.

Police pursued the car after the youths fled a scene where an off-duty policeman tried to break up a fight downtown. Officers said they returned the fire when two shotgun blasts were fired from the fleeing car.

Lykes and several onlookers began to gather. Someone threw a brick at a patrol car and was chased by the police officers.

As the crowd gathered reinforcements arrived for a total of six officers respond- ed. The youth was apprehended and the crowd broke up according to Johnny Barker, public information officer. Barker said during the disturbance a police walkie-talkie was stolen.

Bob Gilder, head of the Community Action Agency, said that the cleanup campaign of Central Avenue has been completed and the resulting “area really to be appreciated.”

Gilder’s office, along with more than 150 volunteers from the city, took it upon themselves to do something to help the area between Scott and Cass.

The group swept buildings, boarded up windows and doors and cleaned all piled up debris off the street and out of the abandoned buildings.

Core Holds State Conference

Central Takes New Face While City Continues Plans

Bob Gilder, head of the Community Action Agency, said that the cleanup campaign of Central Avenue has been completed and the resulting “area really to be appreciated.”

Gilder’s office, along with more than 50 volunteers from the city, took it upon themselves to do something to help the area between Scott and Cass.

The group swept buildings, boarded up windows and doors and cleaned all piled up debris off the street and out of the abandoned buildings that were used as a haven for dope addicts and stolen goods.

Within the past months several ideas have been tossed around in the minds of city officials as to what could be done with this area. Gilder had stressed the fact that something had to be done soon and the cleanup campaign was the first step toward continuous action.

Gary Smith, assistant director of the Metropolitan Development Agency, INC., said that with the approval from the mayor and the city council his office could take some planned variations of money and demolish some of the vacant buildings. The planned variations would provide $3.2-million and $1.6-million, required from the city of Tampa. The money spent from the planned variations would provide $3.2-million and $1.6-million, required from the city of Tampa. The money spent from the planned variations funds would go down toward the city’s $1.6-million.

Surveys have been looking at the property on Central Avenue and buildings are to be torn down.

The land has been valued at $2.3-million.

LEROY CLARK
Place Disorder Blame Where It Belongs

This newspaper was the object of the most blatant and outrageous attack ever launched upon it last weekend, when school officials took turns in blaming an article published last Tuesday for disorders at King High School.

The principal of the school, Bill Stewart, got on television and blamed the Sentinel for starting the disorders with “misinformation.” Then a daily press printed a story Saturday morning quoting and naming us as “responsible” for the disorders.

Adding insult to injury, Sgt. Raymond O. Shelton’s public relations office sent out an official newspaper story charging the Sentinel with being a “major factor” in causing the disturbance.

We view these unprecedented attacks as obviously being aimed at discrediting the Sentinel and its staff in the eyes of the black and white communities.

More than that, though, the use of the Sentinel as a decoy of blame under existing circumstances at King High is inescapable for the boys and girls attending.

Flowers flared up again at King Monday, two days after the wild charges, testimony to the fact that all this is still in the air for several months.

The racial discord at King High extended long before the article citing a black boy’s story of how he was beaten and handcuffed to a chair there. School officials later claimed the boy pulled a knife on the two school monitors, but the boy and his mother maintain he never had a knife.

Moreover, this information could have been printed in last Tuesday’s paper along with the article in question. But when the Sentinel attempted to contact Mr. Stewart about the boy’s story, he was unavailable for comment. A Mr. Scott, who said he was assistant principal, had no immediate statement.

To this day, Bill Stewart and his mother maintain that there is no way the Sentinel would make a rebuff to the boy’s story on Tuesday morning, March 21st. Mr. Scott was never heard from again.

To this day, King High officials issued a communiqué to the effect that we were responsible for the disorders.

To this day, the boy involved and his mother maintain that the affair is not a story about the Sentinel and that King High officials really don’t have a true rebuttal to offer. Moreover, the Sentinel has documented information from other blacks attending King concerning the fostering race relations there which have existed for several months.

Are we to blame for this too?

Solving the racial situation at King High fell several months ago and still falls squarely on the shoulders of the school’s administration and not the Sentinel Bulletin. We were no more responsible for them getting off the track than we were last Friday when they let the situation explode from lack of attention.

To us, to have power as administrators and not use it is an unpardonable dereliction of duty. To pass the buck of blame to this newspaper for their own shortcomings in handling an explosive situation is not only a lie but a disgrace.

尽管没有方向的一些黑人学生和年轻的人民，我们需要这些年轻的人民为他们自己的想象会和实践新的想法和方法。

COMMUNICATING CAN CLOSE THE GAP ...

Political Revue

By SANDY MONDINO

Political analysts in Florida have reached the conclusion that neither the Florida nor national AFL-CIO leadership rallied their members to stem the sweep of Gov. George Wallace of Alabama in the recent Florida primary.

This observation became apparent as results piled in from the state’s 2,841 precincts to show that Wallace had amassed $16,000 votes, 42 percent of the vote cast in the Demo primary. He won 75 of the state’s 81 delegates to the Demo National Convention.

Organized labor in Florida was other blacks attack the start with some officials supporting Senator Henry Jackson, the favorite of AFL-CIO president George Meany, while others divided their backing between Humphrey, Muskie and Wallace.

The situation was contrasted with that in the latter stages of the 1968 campaign when the AFL-CIO put on a massive last-minute drive and cut down Wallace votes.

In the Florida campaign only one AFL-CIO leaflet against Wallace was in evidence. Issued by the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education, the leaflet simply proclaimed, “A vote for Wallace is a vote for Nixon.” Unlike 1968, when the AFL-CIO espoused the low-wage structure in Wallace’s home state, the labor leadership made no effort to pierce what Muskie called the “demagoguery” of Wallace.

Apparently, many in labor’s rank and file in Florida allowed themselves to be suckered in by Wallace’s appeal to segregation under the code phrase of “no forced busing.”

The Senate Friday tackled a legislative reapportionment plan that would probably produce Florida’s first black state senator in modern times. The plan calls for 40 single-member districts, and at best is a long shot.

The plan would reduce the Senate from 48 to 40 members and is accurate to within 1/3 percent of equal representation for every district. “It’s well within the limits the courts allow,” Sen. John L. Ducker of Orlando said. Ducker said a single-member district approach to realigning the Senate districts is not specifically intended to boost black membership although it worked out that way. Parceled the 40 seats out into individual districts would virtually assure minority holding a persuasive influence on Senate elections.

Under multimeber districts, minority blue votes are diluted in the countrywide or districtwide tally.

STATE REP. Guy Spalding has written a reply to each member of the Black Businessmen’s Caucus, who took him to task for leaving others from Hillsborough County, for his stand on busing. The other members of the local delegation here so far ignored the Caucus letter to them.

NORMAN E. JONES

Chairman of the National Policy Conference on Education for Blacks, announced last weekend that registration for the four-day confab has been cut off and that no additional registration can be honored because of space limitations.

The confab is scheduled to begin March 29 at the Marriott Twin-Bridges Hotel in Washington, D.C. and 600 participants from across the country are expected to attend.

Bishop John D. Bright, Bishop of the AME Church and president of the National Committee of Black Churchmen, last week announced his support of Senator Robert E. Schumaker for president.

Bishop Bright, whose episcopal extends to some 600 churches in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, and Bermuda, said he is supporting Schumaker “because I believe he would accomplish what President Nixon promised, but has failed to achieve—the bringing together...”

A homemaker writes that almost every day is now a "new day" or "quiet time" occasionally, there are a few hours alone in the park, nearby beach, or public library. She says "as often as it is the only time she has to think about the problems, serious and disturbing, more than she wants to face."

Most often when she goes to the park for a few hours, it is to carry a bag of coffee or tea, a book, a magazine, or something to knit or sew. She will sometimes write a batch of letters, or sometimes she goes there simply to sit and put off the worry and stress of the day.

This homemaker is one of those who often gets away from her family to make notes or outlines for a speech. We are grateful to her for this suggestion and hope other readers will share this helpful idea with Forum members.

TAMPAS' NIGHT BEAT

Yours truly was among the many fortunate last weekend to witness the electrifying performance of ICE MAN—JERRY BUT-four lovely young ladies by the name ofTHE"PRINCES, was host-many fans: called him. The show was one of the show of the CENTURY ARTHURS. BUTLIER

My.theme is "cold blooded" and which consists of Robert Bowlers, Musical Director; Sunny Burke, Vocal Director; Berta Cates and Bernard Williams. His four ladies are called "ice princesses," 24 year olds and accompanies them. His name is "AUNT UNDERSTANDING MEL-

BUTLIER, who has been the in-

BUTLIER has four ladies who ac-be the group will be going back to Chicago, Ill., and then on to York, Pennsylvania for an engagement from there to Boston, Va., to the Scope Convention Center.

The audience was asked why most of his songs do not have a moral. His answer was that such affairs as so many other great affairs are a mystery to him, and to this he said, "Basically all of the things that I write, or have written are things that I've lived."

I've spent all of my life falling in and out of love with some-able, and it's been great fun, I've enjoyed every minute of it."

That's the answer to the question. There is the cause for interest in that everybody goes through that. I don't consider myself very cold-blooded, but that's what people are.

Well, according to most of his friends, he has song, like "For Your Precious Love," his first million seller, this statement can be made. Album sales response plays an important part in any engagement's success. At the Camelot Room in the KING Cam has in the making for upcoming the forum cities of "Right On" which will be shown. If you missed it, you missed one of the greatest performances in the group's long time. Some of the folks that yours truly cared up lost business all last week were: Alty, and Mrs. War-turned to look at them. Like Jesse Owens, they are superior by dint of their personal achievements not only in the running circles but also in the running circles. They are part of the reason for which people say they are "running circles.

The gold medal won by Jesse Owens in the 1936 Olympic Games was an achievement that captured the imagination of the world, and it is not surprising that the same type of reverence is shown today for Owens and other world-class athletes.

The gold medal is more than just a symbol of personal achievement; it is a symbol of national pride and a testament to the hard work and dedication required to achieve such a high level of excellence. It is a reminder that with determination and perseverance, anything is possible.

The gold medal also serves as a source of inspiration for aspiring athletes, encouraging them to strive for excellence and to never give up on their dreams. It is a reminder that with hard work and dedication, anything is possible. And just like Jesse Owens, they have shown that by dint of their personal achievements, they are able to make a difference in the world and inspire others to do the same.

In conclusion, the gold medal is a symbol of personal achievement, national pride, and a testament to the hard work and dedication required to achieve such a high level of excellence. It is a reminder that with determination and perseverance, anything is possible. And just like Jesse Owens, they have shown that by dint of their personal achievements, they are able to make a difference in the world and inspire others to do the same.

Okeechobee

Bethel Missionary Baptist Church was greatly inspired during morning and evening services, March 19, by a spiritual devotion, meditating, and call to altar. The pastor's text was taken from St. Matthew 26:74-75; the subject, "The Rooster in the Plans of Salvation." The Spirit was high, and one person was called to our altar. The service was complemented by the Inspirational Choir's beautiful singing. B.T.U. was held at 5:00 p.m., after which, evening services began. The text for the evening service was taken from St. Matthew 26:18-21; the subject, "What WILL YOU Do With Jesus." The services, attendance and finance was good throughout the day.

Our Pastor, Rev. Williams attended The Progressive State Convention throughout last week, and on Saturday, March 25, the Youth Choir, along with the directors, organist, and various members, joined our pastor. Bethel wishes to remind everyone of "Holy Week," beginning March 25, and ending April 5, Easter Sunday. The theme; The Seven Words From The Cross, spoken by various ministers. Bethel cordially invites everyone to attend the "Holy Week," Services, and all other worship services at our Church. Rev. J. H. Williams is pastor of Bethel Baptist.

AUTO RACING CAMPAIGNS FOR NEW, BLACK DRIVERS

CHICAGO — Though they have fared well in other major sports, blacks have never made it big in auto racing. John Mahler, a while driver of some note, plans to change the image. Mahler and several top figures outside motorsports have formed Vanguard Racing, Inc., to develop black drivers—with an immediate goal of putting a black in the 33-car Indianapolis 500 starting line-up.

Other basic goals included the training of black mechanics, crew members and technicians. Mahler, fastest rookie qualifier in Indianapolis history — he was bumped from the car in 1971 and didn't start—will be team manager for the operation.

Mahler's board are Brig. Owens, defensive backfield for the Washington Redskins, R. Sargent Slipher, former Peace Corps director; Paul Jackson, a Washington, D.C., contractor, and Richard Deutsch, board chairman and a d treasurer of Harbor Oil Corp., who will be the team's mentor.

As its first effort, Vanguard has picked Benny Scott, a black professor of psychology at Long Beach State College, to drive a McLaren formula car in the Sports Car Club of America's Continental road racing circuit this year. Scott, who has some experience in club racing, will be assigned a new McLaren-Chevrolet. Mahler and the others think the experience Scott will gain will lead Indianapolis next year.

Mahler also will work the Continental series in a McLaren, and will drive in some of the USAC championship events. He finished eighth in the Pocono 500 in Pennsylvania last year.

The economy must be picking up a bit—at least as far as auto racing is concerned.

Paid attendance of more than 100,000 for the Feb. 20 Daytona 500 was the largest in the 23-year history of NASCAR's "showcase" speedway.

The $50,000 paid at Ontario, Calif., for the March 5 Miller 500 was a 20 per cent gain over the best previous stock car showing at the $25 million facility. And the 45,000 that showed up for the March 12 Carolina 500 at Richmond, N.C., also was a record.

Larry Hogan, executive vice-president of the iconic mile layout in the Southern Pines Pinehurst gold country, said, "We were actually worried for awhile.

OXNARD, Calif. — Joe Frazier's next defense of his world heavyweight title will be against Ron Stander, a 33-year-old slugger, on May 25 in Oxnard, the corn-huker Boxing Club is expected to announce within the next 24 hours.

It is understood that the 15-round title fight in the Corn-huker arena will be carried on home television and that Frazier will receive 40 per cent of the live gate plus a $100,000 guarantee from television. The TV will be handled by TNS television network of New York City.

Frazier knocked out Terry Daniel in his last defense of the title last Jan. 15 but looked rusty following his long layoff after the March, 1971, "fight of the century" with Muhammad Ali. Frazier is believed to be taking the fight with Stander, a brawler from Council Bluffs, Iowa, to try to determine whether he has recovered from the long layoff and can make definite plans for a return bout with Ali.

Bob Foster Can Snap Archie Moore's Mark

MIAMI—When light-heavyweight champion Bob Foster steps into the ring against WBA champion Vicente Paul Rondon for the unification title on April 7 at the Miami Beach Convention Hall, he will be seeking to break Archie Moore's record for successful defenses of the crown.

Moore, one of the greatest champions in the history of the division, came into being in Feb., 1962. He successfully defended his title eight times before the National Boxing Association lifted his crown in 1965.

Today at 48, Williams is working with school dropout at a state residential center here, getting back on his feet and paying off his debts. Although he says there were "many bad guys in boxing" when he made his reputation, Williams blames himself for the disastrous turn in his life after he lost the lightweight title.

"It was all tragedy after I lost the title fight. It was all downhill," he recalled recently.

A native of Brunswick, Ga., Williams grew up in Trenton, N. J., where he had his first amateur fight at 14. His debut as a professional took place March 15, 1940, when he stopped his opponent in the fourth round. He was not yet 17.

A serious, poker-faced youth, Williams worked hard and he earned a reputation as a fine boxer in a decade filled with classy ringmen.

In a 134-fight professional career, that stretched over 15 years, Williams won 60 bouts by knockouts, 65 by decisions. He was knocked out only six times, lost 18 others by decision, and drew five.

Williams took the lightweight championship from Bob Montgomery with a right to the jaw at 2:27 of the fifth round in a scheduled 15-round bout at Philadelphia on Aug. 4, 1947.

For Williams, 1948 was the apogee. He successfully defended his title three times to earn honors as WBA champion, defeated the Fighter of the Year. He bought land and a couple of apartment houses. Ike Williams was a celebrity, and he liked the glitter. He tried being on friendly terms with movie stars such as Mickey Rooney, and having his picture taken with beautiful women.

Then he was beaten in a match against Jimmy Carter in May, 1961.

He lost three fights in a row. Instead of giving up, he began fighting.

"To understand, you must know that after I lost the title I went real bad," Williams admitted.

"What Joe Louis warned me would happen, happened," Williams recalls. "I showed up at Joe's training camp in North Jersey with my girl friend on my arm and Joe said, "You lost the title, but you tore up the ring. They think you're going to lose everything.""

But Philadelphi a on Aug. 4, 1947.

After the disqualification, the judges ruled in favor of the champion, and now you know that after I lost the title I went real bad," Williams admitted.

GRANT GETS UP IN TIME, KENTUCKY ST. WINS NAIA

The Bluegrasses from Wisconsin called Travis Grant 20 points, his seasonal average, and outscored Penn State, Kentucky State made only 37.9 percent of its shots as a team.

But Eau Claire lost the game 3-2,7-46, clinching its third straight victory, 71-62, clinching its third straight victory.

Tightening by three to five points midway through the second half, the top-seeded Bluegrasses began throwing up shots from far out on the court. Then, Kentucky State cashed in eight free throws in the last minute to tie it 55-55.

The six-foot, eight-inch giant just couldn't be stopped when he had to be. He scored 10 straight points midway through the New York Times.

"You know something crazy's coming up." He said.

"He's gotta sexy," said a good-looking girl when Bob was a kid. "I've got a look at Erving in a game in New York."

"You can use all the adjectives you want about Erving," said Johnny Kerr, the big redhead who bullied with Blanchard for a long time as a player and coach in the NBA, and is the assistant vice-president of the Supersonics.

Kerr can't get enough of Erving.

In a recent game at Boise, the scene here, Scott and Erving were flying up on the wings of a 1-point-2 fast break. Scott's shot still sliced across the back of the hoop, but Erving went high and put the ball back where it belonged—in the basket.

"Happiness," cried Kerr, nodding this reporter in the ribs, "I'm having Scott on one side of the basket and Erving on the other."

At the All-Star Game in Louisville, Kerr came out of his seat and slapped Blanchard on the back after one of Erving's manuvers.

Scott and Erving played good enough on defense to win the NAIA basketball championship game at Kansas City, Mo.

SPEEDY ROOKIE THOMAS... A PADRE TERROR ON BASES?

By PHIL COLLIER

YUMA, Ariz. — When Derrell Thomas entered pro baseball in 1960, people knew he was something because his goal was to reach the majors the next season. Now, with the Padres, the Padre’s third baseman is reaching for the majors. His second goal is to break the major league record of 104 stolen bases set in 1952 by Dodger shortstop Roy Face.

“After I finished spring training,” Thomas said in an interview, “I thought if I shoot for 105, I might be the first shortstop to reach the majors with 100. I was never sure of getting there, but I didn’t want to disappoint the fans.”

The Padres, however, are the first to agree that Thomas is not a conventional second baseman, even in his own opinion. He is, they say, a padre terror on bases.

FAMU IN STUDENT EXCHANGE WITH UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA

TALLAHASSEE - Twenty University of Florida students, participants in the Carnegie Cross Cultural Exchange Program, arrived in the Florida A&M University campus Tuesday for enrollment at FAMU for the Spring quarter, beginning March 27. The students represent UF's contribution to a program which is simultaneously sending 90 FAMU students to UF.

The UF students began three days of planning and orientation Tuesday night with a dinner in the university dining hall, where they heard Warren H. Shirley, associate professor and director of the counseling center, tell them they were "charting a course."

Calling the students pioneers, Shirley counseled them as individuals "To tell one thing - one nation under God with liberty and justice for each individual... This is your mission. This is the one thing you must do."

They listened, they ate and they chatted with some 25 FAMU students who "didn't go home for the break." Smiles were on their faces and they seemed glad to be among fellow students from another culture. And the FAMU students seemed glad, too.

Wednesday and Thursday the UF students will take part in pre-registration seminars.

The purpose of UF students coming to FAMU is to provide the opportunity for pre-professional white students to spend an academic quarter at FAMU to prepare themselves for understanding and working sensitively and responsibly with representatives of the black community.

FUU students who will attend UF are interested either in exploring the possibility of graduate and professional careers or in further strengthening their background for graduate or professional study.

The Carnegie Program, first outlined by the Carnegie Foundation in 1969, is directed by Elmer R. Thomas of the University of Florida. Associate director is Bernard S. Smith of FAMU. Policy decisions of the University of Florida is assistant director.

Other schools participating in the program are Bethune-Cookman College, Florida Memorial College and Edward Waters College.

Francesca A. Rodriguez, who did so much for blacks during the hard days of the civil rights struggle in the fifties and early sixties, began serving yesterday (Monday) a one month sentence for failing to report income tax. After the meeting, Mr. Rodriguez will be on federal probation for two years.

Florida's first scientific Jewish population study revealed that Dade County is home to 107,000 Jewish people. The study showed that more than 40 per cent of the Jews were born out of the country, and that nearly half of them have moved to Miami since 1960.

One of the founders of the group told the meeting he had examined the list of prospective delegates from the district and could not find a black on it. Only one in the state has been definitely chosen - Norman Jones. Another has declined to serve, claiming she was afraid of repercussions from the black community.
