County Residents Losing Social Security Benefits
Mrs. Essie Mae Jackson, 63, was caught in a hard little knot at the raids on gambling establishments. She was the woman police officer in this city approximately 1,500 in number. She was not in the business of entertainment or gambling. She was a member of the women's bureau for women seeking help, and she was a detective. Mrs. Jackson told the officer that her name was Ethel Kuenton, 1413 Wisconsin Avenue, and left through the side door of the building.

The records reflect that the mayor of Milford, Ohio, appointed a woman as a child of police of this city. She was living in the same house as her parents, and she was not a member of the police department. The Philadelphia police department has been discriminated against and harassed by the courts. The discrimination cases were brought against the department by blacks and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Pullen also temporarily restrained the department from exercising its authorized strength as of March 1. Several blacks claimed they had been discriminated against and had been asked for a preliminary injunction to keep the department from hiring or promoting any nonblacks. The courts said the police examination case contained "cultural bias" against them by postmasters, an academically limited mind could answer. One question cited by their lawyers asked the applicant to divide three-fifths by two fifths.

Dispute Over Child Leads To Row Between Brother, Sister

No charges were filed against a 13-year-old youth for shooting at Mrs. 20-year-old sister during a family dispute over a child Tuesday afternoon.

Police arrested Jerry Williams after his sister Erley told police officers that he shot at her twice with a .22-caliber revolver.

After inquiring into the incident at 253 20th Street, Apt. 139, police officers reported that the shooting stemmed from an assault on Erley's small child. Erley said Jerry yelled at her and shook him to get him to listen to her twice at the kitchen and grab him in the left side of his head. He injured his neck and got the gun and fired at his sister when she had returned to the kitchen.

Their mother, on the scene, during the disturbance, struck Jerry's arm while he was shooting at the house before the arrival of police.

The mother, Mrs. Julie Williams, told investigating officers that this was a usual occurrence between Erley and Jerry, as they often argued and fought over household chores.

Jerry returned to the house and was taken for jail for the shooting, which occurred after his mother's death. Jerry admitted that the shooting was as much their fault as it was his.

The case was exceptionally cleared with this statement and the youth was sent home. Charges were filed against Erley for the stabbing.

COUNTY RESIDENTS LOSING SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

"Many Hillsborough County residents are losing social security disability benefits," said Jack Brown, Social Security District Manager. Brown said that the Tampa office has received hundreds of inquiries lately indicating a misunderstanding of this type of benefit. Brown stated that answers to the three most asked questions will help explain disability benefits and prevent future disputes.

Q. How old does a person have to be to qualify for disability benefits?

A. There is no age limit. A person may qualify for disability benefits at any age. The Social Security Administration will consider any evidence that a person is disabled.

Q. What are the requirements for this type of benefit?

A. There are two requirements:

1. A person must have worked for the "sufficient" amount of time to qualify for social security disability benefits. The person must have put in the time required before he is disabled.

2. A person who becomes disabled at age 31 or older must have five full years of work under social security out of the 10 years ending when he became disabled. In addition, the individual must have had 25 quarters of coverage acquired after 1950 if he is disabled after the age of 31. For people disabled before age 31, work credits are needed for one-half the period between age 21 and the point at which the disability condition began.

Q. When should a person who is disabled and unable to work file for disability?

A. Application for disability benefits should be filed as soon as possible. Benefits begin as soon as the person becomes disabled.

Q. How often does a person have to be re-evaluated by the Social Security Administration to make sure he is still eligible for benefits?

A. There is no set time for re-evaluation. The Social Security Administration will consider any information received about disability at any time.

Q. Is there a time when a person is no longer considered eligible to receive disability benefits?

A. Yes, a person ceases to be eligible for social security disability benefits if he is no longer disabled or if he works for at least 20 hours a week.

SECOND ANNUAL RACE UNITY DAY SET FOR JUNE 11

CLEARWATER — Clearwater's second annual Race Unity Day will be held on Sunday, June 11, from 4 p.m. to sunset at Ed Wright Park on the corner of Greenwood and Lakeview. A Steering Committee composed of members of the Human Relations Council, Clearwater Neighbors, Religious Community Services, St. Pete Junior College, and the Baha'i Faith met Tuesday to set plans in motion for the community-wide observance of Race Unity Day. This day is commemorated all over the United States by members of the Baha'i Faith and was inaugurated in this city by the Clearwater Baha'i Assembly. Everyone in the Bay area is invited to attend the Race Unity Day gathering. It will be a casual combination of refreshments, recreation and music, something the whole family can enjoy. The Committee is currently looking for singers and musical groups to entertain during the event. Anyone interested in volunteering their talent may call Mary Shiholser, 444-3142. Volleyball, baseball and horse shoes will be among the forms of recreation offered. There will be no charge for admission and everyone is welcome. It is hoped that this joint Race Unity Day planning effort will result in a closer spirit of harmony and friendship between the races in Clearwater.

Last year's event drew a crowd of 400 people and was acclaimed a great success. Many in attendance expressed the desire to see this friendship gathering become an annual event.

BLACK FAMILY FINDS HELP IN ALL-WHITE NEIGHBORHOOD

JORDAN removes broken glass from new home

CHICAGO — Rudolph Jordan and his family began having second thoughts about moving into their newly purchased home in an all-white Chicago neighborhood after vandals smashed 32 windows in the house last week, splashed paint on draperies and rugs and attempted to burn down the garage.

Doighting to help when day came this past weekend, the Jordans found they had more offers of help than they could use.

Many of the South Side neighborhood’s white residents weren’t speaking to the Jordans, but their children came over to play with the two Jordan youngsters.

And a few adults along with members of an interracial group, called Zealous Efforts for Better Racial Attitudes, offered to help clean up the broken glass and repaint the house.

The volunteers rolled up 10 cars and living room a bright gold.

A teenage group from a Chicago suburb arrived with gardening tools and cut and mulched the front and back lawns.

And when the furniture arrived, everyone dropped what they were doing to help carry it into the house past the Chicago policemen keeping a 24-hour-a-day watch in a squad car parked across the street.

Mrs. Jordan, who said she brought up not to worry about the color of her skin, said it’s nice to know there are still people who care.

"I was beginning to wonder what happened here last Thursday night," she said, "but now it’s nice to know there are still people who care."

Melba's In Love With Her Man To Boot

NEW YORK—Melba Moore, last season's toast of Broadway, is having a harder time of it after 16 appearances on Johnny Carson's "Tonight"—just one of 46 million TV viewers who couldn't wait for that girl to sing. For her new shows, she will be singing the blues.

Exclusion Angers Shirley Chisholm

NEW YORK—Angered that she was not invited to this time's Women's Network, Shirley Chisholm, plans to file a suit demanding that she be invited to all future conferences between the two organizations and Democratic presidential hopefuls.

Mrs. Chisholm, who is running for the Democratic nomination in California's primary, also will file a suit before the Federal Communications Commission to force airing all associated media programs on CBS, which hosted the debate on "Race and the Nation."

She said in a statement that she would seek an injunction against NBC and ABC, which are expected to be fixed today in Washington, D.C.

White Flight, City Denies Tied Right

WASHINGTON — New figures show a startling flight of white Americans to the suburbs in the past decade, increasingly leaving the nation's cities to the colored and the black, the National Urban Coalition said Saturday.

"We have seen what we believe to be an abandonment of the cities," said S. M. Linowits, chairman of the coalition.

"We believe the cities are going to be black and brown, unless we take action to revitalize downtown areas," Linowits said in an interview.

His prescription is to set up metropolitan development agencies to have over-all responsibility, including the distribution of Federal funds, for industrial development, housing, transportation, zoning and social services. He would give them the power to issue private money in addition to federal, local and state funds.

He said nearly $200 billion a year already is going into the cities and the problem is not so much adding new money, but using present funds more wisely.

"It now goes in a jumble of which programs and specifications take advantage of it," he said.

"I can't say my two sons," he told the judge.

"And I don't want to take part in those proceedings where the preserv- ation of my mental health." the judge asked. But safety, he said, he was afraid.

"Racial Flight To Delray

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. — At least four students were injured and two teachers were struck in the face at Atlantic High School when racial fighting erupted Tuesday. At least one student was arrested.

Several groups of blacks assailed the white pupils and teachers in separate afternoon incidents between both groups, according to Principal Robert Johnson and Robert LaPlant, of the Martin Beach County Sheriff's Department.

Booker T. Washington Junior Hi Gets First Lady Principal

When Hillsborough County schools open in late August for the 1972-73 school term there will be a new principal on the scene, in charge of one of the most outstanding faculty around Booker T. Washington Junior High School.

The principal's office will be occupied by a youthful and very attractive young female instead of the usual male faces that have been over the school since its inception.

Mrs. Margaret A. Fisher was appointed Thursday night as principal of Booker T. making this her second term as principal.

Mrs. Fisher is leaving the school system after ten years of service. She resides at 1712 Oberry Street, and is the wife of Mr. Andrew Minor, retired Air Force Forrester. Robert Fisher, who carries the same name, believes he can do almost anything.

Mrs. Fisher said, "I look upon this position as an intriguing, challenging experience."

Her appointment came as a surprise to both Mrs. Fisher and her husband. Mr. Minor, who is now at home, is a retired Air Force officer. She relieved Mrs. Rowena Martin, who was the principal for the last two years.

Mrs. Fisher is finishing her third term as Dean of Girls at N. B. Young Junior High School. Before her tenure at Young she was a classroom teacher at Oaks Elementary and a classroom teacher and learning specialist at Potter Elementary. She has been in the school system for 15 years.

Mrs. Margaret Fisher

The 1955 Middletown graduate comes from a pioneer Hillsboro County family of 12 children. Her father is Mr. William Allen.

After leaving Middletown, Mrs. Fisher went to Bethune-Cookman College, where she obtained a B.A. degree in 1959 and to Florida A & M University in Tallahassee where a Masters degree was earned. Further study has continued at the University of South Florida and Florida State University.

Mrs. Fisher is a member of Temple United Methodist Church, Rev. E. J. Davis, pastor.

HCC Hosting Hotel Council

Hillsborough Community College is hosting the June 1-3 meeting of the Florida Chapter, Council on Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional Education.

The highlight of the three-day meeting, being held at the Tampa Airport Inn, 13621 North West Shore Boulevard, will be a formal dinner July 16-2 p.m. scheduled by HCC Food Service and Lodging Management students.

Ivan Adkinson, HCC assistant professor of the Hotel-Motel Management career program, is in charge of the meal and will serve as host for the entire conference.

HCC president Dr. Morton Shanberg will give the welcome address at the Friday evening dinner.

Other HCC speakers will include Michael Scrrant, Executive Assistant to the President of HCC, who will discuss education and Florida government 16:30 to 17:45, June 2; and William R. Tripp, Provost, HCC Dale Mabry Campus, who will present a program on budgeting Food and Lodging Programs 18:30 to 20:00, June 2.

The three-day conference will cover several areas of training for food and lodging careers, as well as a tour of the food facilities at the new Tampa International Airport.

Injuns Shudder: Where Would They Be If Not For McCraw?

CLEVELAND, Ohio — Manager Kenny Aspromonte put into words what his Tribe men have been thinking for quite a while.

"I don't know where we'd be today if it weren't for Tom McCraw," said Aspromonte after the Indians surged into first place in the American League East.

"Tommy has been a lifesaver for us in more ways than one. He has been a tremendous addition."

And the amazing thing about the acquisition of the 31-year-old McCraw, an accomplished first baseman as well as outfielder, was his price tag.

Ted Ford, who went to Texas in the deal for McCraw, may be loaded with potential. But the Indians got McCraw AND Roy Foster for Ford April 4 in a surprising swap that paid almost immediate dividends.

In the Tribe's second game of the season April 17, regular first baseman Chris Chambliss suffered a pulled hamstring. If not for McCraw, there would have been no immediate dividends.

"I don't know where we'd be today if it weren't for Tommy," said McCraw, who now has both McCraw and Chambliss available to play first base, insisted McCraw was not a shoe-in as speculated.

"Absolutely not," said the fresh man as he swung a particularly hot bat against his former Texas teammates, which provoked praise from Ranger Manager Ted Williams.

"He keeps kids like John Brunham, Frank Duffy and Buddy Bell on their toes. I just have to point at him from the dugout and it seems he knows exactly what I want.

"I'm telling you, I don't know where we'd be today if it weren't for McCraw."

Everybody wondered the same thing.

McCraw agreed with Williams' remarks about being "inspired" when he played against Texas.

"Sure, I'm anxious to prove he (Ted) was wrong about me," admitted McCraw, who batted .313 in 122 games with the then-Washington Senators last season. Previously, Tommy played eight years for the White Sox.

"But how was Ted to know what I could do," asked McCraw, "heck, I gave him only four at-bats all spring training. How could I prove anything to him?"

Aspromonte, who now has both McCraw and Chambliss available to play first base, insisted McCraw was not a shoe-in as speculated.

"Absolutely not," said the fresh man, "we wanted him for lot of reasons. Before Chambliss got hurt, I figured Tommy could provide us insurance at first base or the outfield and also give me another lefthanded pinch-hitter and an excellent pinch-runner."

"I saw Tommy playing with Washington last year and he impressed me. You know, he could be the best first baseman in our league."

Tommy, after replacing Chambliss against Boston, smote a three-run homer to break a scoreless tie and lead the Tribe to a 4-0 victory. And he proceeded to keep swinging so well that Chambliss was not rushed back into action.

At this writing, McCraw was among the American League's top 10 hitters with a .368 average and six stolen bases.

McCraw swung a particularly hot bat against his former Texas teammates, which provoked praise from Ranger Manager Ted Williams.

"I'm telling you, I don't know where we'd be today if it weren't for McCraw."

"But that's not all. Hes a hustler. He can hurt and is good on the hit-and-run. Tommy gets on base a lot, too, and you can't believe how good he is among our younger players."

"He keeps kids like John Brunham, Frank Duffy and Buddy Bell on their toes. I just have to point at him from the dugout and it seems he knows exactly what I want.

"I'm telling you, I don't know where we'd be today if it weren't for McCraw."

Everybody wondered the same thing.

'I CAN HIT .300 ANYWHERE I PLAY,' SAYS HUMOR MAN

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — He chats in a genuine Meadowlark Lemon monologue, incredibly sharp, comically slow, that triggers an infectious, reverberating laugh.

Enos Cabell's little world always remains lit up like a neon sign.

He is the Good Humor Man of the Rochester Red Wings, this gaggle sort of chap who plays first base basically exactly like nobody else in the American League.

"Baseball used to be just fun," he said, "but now it's fun AND business. The higher you go, the more it's that way. If you do good, they pay you for it. If you don't, they scream on you ... and it's no fun to be screamed on." Enos Cabell (pronounced En-iss Kalbell) struggled through those early April nights, but his hat began to sit well in May and his average zoomed into the .330s.

"I know I can hit .330 anywhere I play," said Cabell, darling of the Dixie Association at Dallas-Fort Worth last season, where he led the league with a .311 average.

"I'm not only well, I guess I am but good way."

"If I can hit .330 anywhere, I thought I could do at least about .310 when I was hitting .400."

In 1969, his first pro season, Cabell would like to think he can hit .310 and hit .400."

"I'm a 6-5, 180-pound Pinc and Judy," he said.

Cabell would like to think he can hit .350 with 20 home runs and at least 100 RBIs in his first crack at the American League.

"I'm a lucky hitter," he said.

"I've always been lucky. You'll see me hitting a lot of gorky, which he's jams on and stuff like that. I don't hit many better. I hit for average."

He Pitched, Once

"Mooner or later, I know I'm going to be in the show. Whether it be with Baltimore or somebody else, I'd like to play with Baltimore, because I like playing with a winner. I'm . . . bad loser. If I hit .400 in Rochester this year, they (Arlington) have to do something with me."

Forest Heights Little League

The Forest Heights Little League will hold a bazaar June 20th at the Little League field in Lincoln Gardens. The public is invited to attend.

R. Williams is the president and Mrs. M. Brit is the reporter.
Bashful Bucco Al Oliver—
"No Hitter Better Than Me"

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Al Oliver calls his potential "unlimited." "As for hitting a baseball," he said, "I'm the best. No one's ever been better. Only God is better than me, as consistently as I do." Oliver, 33, the third baseman for the Pirates, at 6-2, 200, has never hit .300. He had his best average as a rookie, .269, in 1973.

Oliver's remarks could be misleading. He does not brag. He feels he is the best, that's why he player in the majors and he wants to prove it. In becoming a success, he said the "guy-a-year underfolder. "No. There are three big factors No. 1 is pride, No. 2 is confidence, No. 3 is luck.

Breaking down the factors, Oliver said: "Pride means, among other things, that you never want to look bad. Partly confidence is never giving up. Luck means getting the ball to fall safely."

Bad-Luck Victim

Oliver feels that luck—mostly bad—has prevented him from reaching his potential before this season. "I think I've hit more line drives than the ball players, more than most players," Oliver said. "I feel I should have good contacts 50 percent of the time. If I get the hit, I wouldn't feel too bad."

In Oliver's first three seasons with the Pirates, he has been able to keep his average over .250 during the first month or so of the season. This resulted in his becoming a reliable platoon player and not a regular. He did get off to a rousing start. He hit safely in the first 18 games, was stopped by Tom Kelley in Atlanta, then hit safely in the next five games before he was blanked against the Dodgers last week. "I'm glad the hitting streak is over," he said. "When you do that, you're not helping yourself or the team." Oliver went to camp this spring already 15 points lighter than he was before the 1971 season started.

Bill Virdon thinks Oliver, at 250 pounds, is able to hit better than Oliver at 230. "Oliver wasn't fat or anything like that," the Pirates' manager said. "It's just when he carries extra weight, it seems to all go around his shoulders. At 230 pounds, he has a quicker start. Still, I will disagree, but I think that the loss of weight has made some of the difference in his hitting."

"That could be," said Oliver. "I ended the 1971 season at 231 pounds and I was hitting the ball better than Oliver at 230."

Oliver revealed that he had a meeting with Virdon during spring training. "I tried to know what his plans were for me," he said. "Bill didn't make me any promises, but he said he would respect him for that. He couldn't know what the Pirates would need in the field. I know I had to prove something. But Oliver's fast start has shoved my friend Gene Clines, into the background."

A Chat With Clines

"This spring," Oliver said, "I sat down with Gene. I told him I was determined to win the job. I told him that I felt I was going to play every day. I understand how tough it is. I feel he wants to play real bad."
