Bethune Students Win Honors

THE JOY OF GRADUATION

The joy of graduation is expressed in the countenance of Sarah Paul who was graduated from Hillsborough High School Wednesday evening at Curtis Hixon Auditorium. Sarah is the daughter of Mrs. Lula Moten of E. Lake Avenue. (More pictures of graduates Tuesday).

Daytona Beach — Two Bethune-Cookman College students won top honors in a national Creative Writing Contest sponsored by Reader's Digest Foundation and United Negro College Fund. There were 350 entries submitted in competition, that included 25 essays, 29 short stories and 296 poems. Nancy Milliken Panakes, a sophomore Religion and Philosophy major from Dayton Beach won second price in the amount of $35 for a poem entitled 'Poem 1' in the poetry contest. Rita Tyson Scott, a Junior English major from Tampa, was given a citation of honorable mention in the poetry area for her original 'When Happy Went Home.'
Police Solve 13 Burglaries With Arrest At Sentinel’s Door

Major John Salla of the Hillsborough County Sheriff’s Office said today that 13 daytime burglaries in the Carrollwood area and five as well as some in the city limits were all being investigated. Kellam was taken to Tam­lice officers investigating a shoot­to man. who lives in the neighbor­hood. said Thursday morning · that 13 car revealed a quantity of cocaine, the - head . with stray shotgun pel­

The young man offered no re­istance as he was apprehended, handcuffed and placed in a pitcar where Sullivan held him until backup units arrived. A search of the inside of the car revealed a quantity of cocaine, found inside a camera case, a bag of marijuana, and a large num­ber of narcotic paraphernalia. The policemen were about to check the trunk of the car when they spotted Kellam and a woman who was not a passenger.

Mrs. Betty J. Wilson, 26th 2nd Street, said she called the police to investigate a shooting at Char­lee’s Club early Wednesday morn­ing with Charles Baker, 27, 2193 2nd Street and Delilah Road, 26th 2nd Street. The two men were arguing outside the tavern when one of them shot the other. Mrs. Wilson, who was a witness, called the police.

Mrs. Wilson said she heard the shots and thought the right thing to do was to go to the po­lice. In a neighborhood like hers, she explained, "I didn’t want to go to your house and the chances of getting hit by a stray bullet were too great.

When the police arrived on the scene, Mrs. Wilson told them if someone was hurt, she pointed out. Crops of blood and bloodstains on the wall indicated someone was hurt. Mrs. Wilson said the officer promptly said she could have cut her finger and did that (the blood on her hand) and that she was threatened to take her to jail and added that he chose to

Man Robbed Of Food Stamps

The police received a report of a theft of food stamps from a forty-five-year-old woman Mrs. Ernest Rice, 1008 Kay St., told of officers that he was on the northwest corner of South 10th and Kay St. when an unidentified per­son hit him over the head with an unknown object and took $21 worth of food stamps and $4 in cash and fled. Also reported was a breaking­ Tuesday night at 945 12th Avenue. Ronald Bagley, 21, told police that someone entered his apartment and removed the stereo with two speakers and fled un­observed.

Women Claim Police ‘Hostile’ During Shooting Investigation

— A constant cry of law enforcement, especially in the black community, is that police will not get involved and come to the assist­ance of policemen. The Sentinel was told by a woman who did come forward and report a shooting that police officers investigating a shooting experienced "very hostile and nasty".

Mrs. Betty J. Wilson, 26th 2nd Street, said she called the police to investigate a shooting at Char­lee’s Club early Wednesday morn­ing with Charles Baker, 27, 2193 2nd Street and Delilah Road, 26th 2nd Street. The two men were arguing outside the tavern when one of them shot the other. Mrs. Wilson, who was a witness, called the police.

Mrs. Wilson said she heard the shots and thought the right thing to do was to go to the po­lice. In a neighborhood like hers, she explained, "I didn’t want to go to your house and the chances of getting hit by a stray bullet were too great.

When the police arrived on the scene, Mrs. Wilson told them if someone was hurt, she pointed out. Crops of blood and bloodstains on the wall indicated someone was hurt. Mrs. Wilson said the officer promptly said she could have cut her finger and did that (the blood on her hand) and that she was threatened to take her to jail and added that he chose to address the black men on the scene as "boyz." Listed on the police report an investigating officers were Cpl. W. O. Tryambah and Officer R. H. Price.

Mrs. Wilson could not identify the man who shot her or the man who held up Mrs. Wilson. When contacted at his home, Cpl. Tryambah said he did not know Mrs. Wilson did not know anyone who was involved in the shooting. However, he said, at the end of the investiga­tion there were about eight po­lice at the bar.

Cpl. Tryambah, who has worked in predominantly black areas for quite some time, said he has en­countered many shooting situations at other times and has even arrested her. He feels that if the woman thinks she has a legitimate complaint she should take it to someone who could do something about it and not to a newspaper.

Officer Price was also contact­ed by the Sentinel and informed this report that it was he that had the run-in with Mrs. Wilson. "She used profanity and was very belligerent and I did not threaten her, but I did tell her that if she was using that she would arrest her and she would have to go to jail," he said from his home.

Price said it was a very con­fusing situation. There we had three people involved in a shooting and the whole crowd of people and no one seemed to know anything." Officer Price asked someone what happened they would report that "your job, you find out." The two policemen were questioned and when Mrs. Wilson said that she had done her job by calling the police.
YEAR LONG GRUDGE LEADS TO SHOOTING BY BOY

Police said this week that a grudge carried against one youth by another led to a shooting offense Tuesday night.

Fifteen-year-old Benny Fernandez, Jr., told police that he and another youth had a fist fight last school term with Benny apparently winning and causing the other boy to carry a grudge against him since.

Tuesday night while Benny was at Reagan Park, 12th Street and Lake Avenue, the kids came up and they exchanged a few words. Benny said a few minutes later he was drinking water at the fountain when the youth hit him in the back of the head with a gun at him. Benny ran and jumped a fence as he heard the gun fire. He was hit with a bullet in the leg.

Miss Kerkow, who is white, said she lives across from the Black Panther Parry, which has an exit headquarters in Alapine.

After graduation from Marshfield High School in 1900, Miss Kerkow's former husband, Elmer Johnson, principal of Marshfield High School, reared her and came out and told her what was going on but she knew what was going on before.

Before their mother and police officers, the girls said their brother, a 16 year old half-brother, was afraid to tell because he threatened to say anything about his mother.

The boy alleged Horner told him that White was afraid to say anything about his mother and police officers.

The federal warrants identify Miss Kerkow as a book and member of the company's business comes from the company's business. He could not be reached for comment. The judge said he was im­...

Angela’s Verdict

Brings A New Challenge

A few days after the acquittal verdict in the Davis trial, it may be timely to challenge one of the Establishment’s new propaganda attacks at a time when public justice is being available to milli­ ever time another defendant

fre space of columns, ed-­ berally to include some mate­ there it additional proof that fairrues and justice reign supreme.

1 could be further from the truth.

Pushing the Establishment line in a recent column, Marquis Childs ran down the names of a series of defendants who had won their cases but have been kept from fair trials are there for the asking. He listed people like Soledad Brothers, John Chatchette and Fletta Drumgo, Black Panther Huey P. Newton and Bobby G. Scale.

The answer to all this was put clear terms by former New Haven, Conn. police chief James F. Aher who says there never was any "solid evidence" to link Bobby Seale to the murder of sus­pected Panther informer A l e x Rackley.

The same goes in the case of Angola.

Aher says he was "astonish­ that Seale had even been arres­

And the Sentinel exprimed the same "astonishment"

last year in the Angola Davis case.

The truth of the matter is that the Seale case was designed, in too many cases to punish in­ nocents by holding them u d e r equally built and spending them into long, expensive trial defenses where there is no justifiable grounds for such legal actions.

Thus when a Bobby Seale or Angola Davis comes along, targets that never should have been placed against them, the Estabishment begins to wonder. It has taken the revolutionary individual out of action for a while and speak for itself on the back as providing justice to every American no matter his color, creed or cause.

If anything, what is happen­ new front and dangerous because it has such wide acceptance, particularly by southern media, in fact, the targets come mainly from the victims and their supporters while the "law and order" perpetrators of the "punish by charge" syndrome have been heading over head on to make the judicial system function as it should.

Heart Snatching

No Laughing Matter

That ruling down in Richmond in the “heart snatch case” leaves physicians elated and poor people more concerned than ever a bout the possibility of their hearts being taken for use in the body of some wealthy person who just might need one at the time the resources are available. They don’t think it’s a laughing matter.

The answer to all this was put to the general public.

Fire Department Holds Fire Fighting Seminar

Fireflight Nightingale said — “a hospital is not a place for harm.” On that theme Tampa Fire Marshal Joe Gome opened the meeting in the Hospital Nursing Home Fighting and Safety conference session at City Hall on June 3, 1973, at Curtis Hanson Convention Center.

Tampa Mayor Dick Greco welcomed the more than 600 medical and nursing home personnel, from as far away as the state of Georgia.

The one-day seminar, hosted by Tampa Fire Chief L. C. Lehmann, was sanctioned by the Florida Nurses Association and is recognized as one of the best fire prevention educational programs in the state.

“Due to the retirement nature of the state of Florida, there’s a definite need for this type of program,” Lehmann said.

Many hospitals and especially nursing homes in Florida do not meet all the standards of fire safety and are ill prepared for a major fire occurrence.

JACKSONVILLE — What is feared by many is the threat of a loss of the success of justice so that a person accused of a crime can have the trial held away from him within a reasonable length of time.

A quiet revolution in the admmons court, in that the system has taken place, to bring actual practice in the state into line with adherence to the U.S. Constitution, that even in Jacksonville, no person is being speedily tried and to have the state defend itself without a defense.

This revolution is a figurative one, since it is firmly based on the Constitution, a document that lived on in the revolution in the philosophy of government.

The SPEEDY PROCESS is centered in the federal courts of the land in that the state has lost control of the man who has been given the responsibility by the district judges to carry out the constitutional mandate is Dr. Joseph E. Hatchett.

What has been brought about since his appointment in December 1969 is an almost complete turnaround in dealing with persons cited for violation of federal laws.

"The principal purpose of the magistrate is to relieve the dis-troit judges of duties that are not specifically judicial in nature.

This means the judges can spend more time in trial work," Hatchett said.

IN COOPERATION with the

Rhodesia Bans Outside Aid

SALESBURY, Rhodesia — Rodesia's white minority government has banned political par-tis from receiving assistance from outside the country.

The purpose was to prevent the major black nationalist organization, the African National Congress, from getting funds from the Organization of African Unity. Hatchett added the ban was the first step toward outlawing the council.

Hatchett said a foreign affairs specialist in the United States Information Agency, with assignments in Uganda, Nigeria, and at the United Nations in Washington, D.C. He joined the staff of the University of Tennessee at Chat-son in June, 1969.

Grandma Receives Art Degree

CHICAGO — A 76-year-old great grandmother who always wanted a college education but was too busy to go to school got her degree. Pearlie Danzy majored in art at Kennedy-King College, one of the City Colleges of Chicago. She was awarded an associate degree.

Mrs. Danzy said she had no trouble adjusting to classmates 50 years younger. "I got along just fine with these young students," she said. "Some of them looked at me kind of funny. And when they asked why I was going to school, I just told them that I wasn't too old to learn new things."

A GIFT FOR TEACHER

When youngsters graduated from Jones Kindergarten a few days ago, they had a gift for their teacher, Mrs. B. Jackson. The presentation was made by Stacey Henderson.

Nelson's Flying Feet, Hot Bat Wins Plaudits Of Range Fans

ARLINGTON, Tex. — While many of the young Rangers are still trying to get it all together, Dave Nelson is off and running. With the surest hit and surest feet, the slender third baseman stole 14 bases in 17 attempts over three occasions, he still was batting .286.

"I'm on my own this year," said Nelson, pointing out that he stole only 17 bases last year with the Senators. "But I didn't come up until June (from Denver) and we didn't have nearly as much overall speed as this club.

"You get to know your pace and the catchers and pitchers. You get the feel of it. You can figure out how to get across for a hit. Quick reflexes, good timing.

"I told 'em I wanted him and we got him. He had a lot to learn about fielding, and he still will improve. But hustle and determination and the willingness to stick at it have made him 100 percent better defensively."

"This year I gave him his head on the bases. He has the go-ahead any time he feels he's ready. He's not a glory boy and he won't go unless he thinks it will help us. I'm not surprised he's off to a good start hitting and stealing bases. That's the way he ended up last year." Finishing with a flourish, Nelson posted a .500 average for the Senators last year. He was 15 for-30 in his last 15 games (1.567), in which he also pilfered seven bases.

He was one of nine men in the league to steal 15 or more this year. He started at bad anywhere from 220 to 300 more times.

Pedro's Campbell Out With Ruptured Tendon

S AN DIEGO—Surgery was decreed briefly today for Padre In-felder Dave Campbell, lost the rest of the season because of ruptured Achilles tendon.

The two-hour operation was originally set for 1 p.m., but was put off until later in the day because of scheduling for the operating room, a spokesman for the hospital said.

Campbell, 36, injured the tendon last night during a 2-1 loss to the Cubs. The veteran had the same tendon operated on at the end of last season and had been sidelined since May 23 with soreness in the tendon. He was only inserted in the lineup last night because rookie second baseman Derrell Thomas had been suspended for a day for showing up late at practice.

Dr. Paul Bauer, Campbell's surgon, said he thinks the infinites should be able to play again next season.

Nearly three years ago, Joe Louis, bulky muscular in a beige sports jacket, was sitting in the upstairs room at Leschamps restaurant. He was there for a news conference to announce the formation of the Joe Louis Food Franchise corporation, which nevermaterialized. But that day, he was talking about Mohammad Ali, also known as Cassius Clay, then unlicensed as a boxer during the appeal to the United States Supreme Court of his draft-revoked case.

"Joe Frazier would be too strong for Clay now," Louis predicted. "No contest. Clay been away too long."

Louis once had been away from boxing for four years when he served with the United States Army in World War II.

"Your legs, your coordination aren't the same no matter how old you are," he explained. "Your mind is just as good as you see punchers coming at you punchers you used to get away from, you can't do it." Punches were coming at Joe Louis then, too, punchers could not get away from.

The next day he collapsed. He was rushed to Beekman Downtown Hospital where his illness was dedscribed as a "physical breakdown."

In a few days he was discharged. About 10 months later he underwent treatment at Colorado Psychichiatric Hospital for what was described as a "physical breakdown."

"The incidents soon melted into a fog with the publication of Barney Nagler's "Brown Bomber." The Pilgrimage was a Hollywood movie starring Clay as the former heavyweight champion umpire's son. The film ended with a classic diagnosis.

Groumas of Tormented. Cocaine provided his "physical breakdown."

Delusions of torment, an emotional "blind spot," which still exists.

Louis, who came to the Sen-sators in 1970 after Ted Williams "saw something" one night in Clevel-
"d, has led three leagues in thefts—the California, Eastern and Pacific Coast. In all the pathos God's In

SPORTANIC FLOODS
Prima Donna Jose? Cubs Wishing They Had More Like Him

JOSE CARDENAL

However, in an either-or decision by the official scorer, it was ruled a foul tip for Ron Brown's effort.

When the writers converged into the clubhouse after the game with pencils poised to interview the hero, there was no Jose. He had made a hard exit—didn’t even shower, it was reported.

Some of the players said that Jose was angered by the scorer’s call, and another said that he was accidentally hit in the head by Bob Backert's bat after crossing the plate on his second home run. As theReplacing Backert, was taking a warmup swing.

Dashed Off to Consolidate

The next day, however, Cardenal revealed that all the wild explanations of his hits were all wrong.

"I wasn't mad at anybody," said Cardenal. "I had to leave the game because I was hit by a pitch from the Mexican consulate to get visas for my parents. I had only about 40 minutes after the game is over because the office closes at 4:30 p.m.

"I'm trying to get my mama's visa. She is 64 now and my mama's brother is 60. I haven't seen them in 11 years.

"I had visas for them last year, but I came home. I left the Mexican consulate to leave and now the visas have run out. I have to stay here and have to get new ones. This time I hope they let them leave.

"I know one thing, without Cardenal, the Cubs will be down near the bottom in our division."

On May 3, the newspapers thought Cardenal had finally got temperamental. He had alleged two.home runs, each with a man aboard, to the Cubs, and he proceeded to hit a shaky young lefty named Joe "Smokie" LaMotta in the Style Cityast.

"You know, the one thing that really upset me was that he stole this bases (Joe's) manager and catcher worked on when he called Ali wanted to meet him again. Then said, "You know, I'm going to be the first one to whip me."

It was during the title fight one day back in 1965, and that was a strange occurrence because he had won his first decisions that year. A six-game stretch in the 1966 season consisted of a strange occurrence because he had won his first decisions that year. A six-game stretch in the 1966 season consisted of Gibson never having gone as long as the Cardinals' hurler to get a win. The nearest he had come was a 2.26 ERA for six months.

GIBRRA ENDS DRY SPELL AND CARDS WET WHISTLES

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — For 40 days and 40 nights before the clouds parted and the sun shone down, the Cubs had had nothing to do with Noah and his ark. It was just that far into the season before Bob Gibson won a game.

You hardly could blame ancient Pop Patrick in the locker room for wondering if the biggest wonder was whether Gibson ever would pass him as the Cardinal's biggest winner. His win was 206 for the Birds. Gibson, whose record was 8-1, finished seventh in '72 despite some excellent outings, just went 1-2 for the season with 295 triumphs.

But, as Gibson put it after dropping his fourth one this season, the date of his next appearance, "I didn't figure I was going through the whole year without a win.

Bob Gibson had been 6-5 before silencing the Bums, who had amassed 31 hits and 15 runs in the first two games of that series at Busch Stadium.

Oh, he had two terrible games and faltered with a 7-3 lead in the eighth another time, but Gibson deserved to be around the 300 mark when he was zip-for-five. Two losses were by 1-0 and 2-1 and he had fourth-round decisions as he was hurt by first-string troubles. Two on the floor, 17 runs he allowed in the first.

Forget those earned-run averages some time. In Gibson's case, 4.43 ERA before notchting his first victory.

However, after that game, he had an ERA of 2.36 for six of his games, and he had 12 earned runs. His ERA for the three runs, 5.04, had brought his count of 13 earned tallies in 273.3 frames, was a little over 6.6.

Mistakes Proved Costly

Gibson concedes that he has made about as well in the three or four previous starts as he did in his long-awaited triumph.

"But along the way I'd make a mistake, and that was the difference between a half ball game," he said. "I had been baled out there was a lot of bad pitches. I'm all right if I can keep my mistakes to a minimum, especially with men on base, That's what kills you.

But then you have to wonder when Gibson talks about a well-pitched game, try pitching one against the Cubs May 30.

"And then I get a little bit away with—Glenn Beckert hit a hanging slider for a double play," a 36-year-old Gibson plotted his head.

Gibson never had gone as long as 40 days in a regular season without a victory. He had a 27-day wait back in 1965, and that was a strange occurrence because he had won his first eight decisions that year. A six-game streak without a win was No. 9 that year until he emerged Elvis Broglio and the Cub, 8-0.

The six-game skid, Gibson's longest of one season, ceased of defeats by those scores: 2-3, 2-3, 3-0, 4-5, 1-4, 1-4, That meant his club had scored 10 runs in the six setbacks.

Despite that 8-0 gateway, Gibson had to struggle to make the 20-minute club for the first time that year. He reached 30 on October 2.

And there was that tremendous 2-3 start in 1966, a year in which Gibson set the major league record for the lowest ERA, 1.15.

15 Wins in a Row

Gibson was 15-5 going into June that year, then 26-15 in a row enroute to a 26-9 windup.

Payne Gets Grand Jury Indictments

ATLANTA — Tom Payne, a player for the Atlanta Hawks' basketball team, was indicted Tuesday in the Fulton County grand jury on three counts of rape and five counts of kidnapping with intent to rape.

Payne, 31, who was not at the hearing, was charged with raping in connection with two alleged attacks in Atlan­ta March 11 and one in Atlan­ta on May 18. The assault charges were in connection with four alleged at­tacks during April.

The basketball player also faces charges of rape in neighbor­hood cases in Cobb, DeKalb and Gwinnett counties, and in DeKalb and Marietta.

Payne, 31, who was not at the hearing, was held on bond.

Upward Bound Program Begins
Seventh Year At USF

Project Upward Bound at the University of South Florida begins its seventh year of operation Sunday, June 11 when 175 students report for the Summer Residential Program. The program is continuous year round with an academic tutorial program during the regular school year as well.

"Upward Bound is a pre-college program for students who come from economically deprived backgrounds, but who have potential for success in college. The program at USF began in 1968. Since its beginning, approximately 550 students have participated in the program with 443 graduating from high school while enrolled in the Project. Of this number 208 or 36% have continued their education in colleges and universities or post-secondary programs throughout the United States.

"These students have enrolled in such colleges as the University of Chicago, Tennessee A & I, West Point, St. Louis School of Nursing, Tuskegee, Morehouse, Talladega, Florida A & M, Wilberforce, Clark College, Florida Memorial, Yale University, University of South Florida and many other colleges.

The retention rate of students in college is approximately 57% which is greater than the national average of regular college students, which is less than 50%.

For the summer, the 175 students will live on the University of South Florida campus in regular dormitories and gain some experience of what college life is all about. Some Upward Bound students who graduated from high school in June will be enrolled as regular freshmen students. Credits earned during the summer are transferable to the college or university of their choice.

Daily, during the summer, a staff of faculty and of 30 instructors will provide students with tutoring.

Students will be in small classes in basic skills courses as required by students to increase their proficiency in subject area. Other courses such as Geometry, Trigonometry, Chemistry, Physics, Journalism, Exploratory Writing, Typing, Spanish, Drama, Music, Business Machines, Computer and Data Processing, Photography, Cinematography and Video Tape Recording and Art will be offered.

Students are also exposed to a variety of educational and cultural activities. In addition to concerts and the Arts Series on the University campus, students will visit museums in Georgia and the colleges in that area. The grave site of Martin Luther King, Six Flags Over Georgia and other scenic places in Georgia.

A Summer Olympics at the University of Florida in Gainesville will also be an exciting event for the students. Although students are engaged in many recreational activities, emphasis is on improving academic skills to enable the student to seek admission and receive financial assistance at the college of their choice.

The program will be in operation at the University through July 28. Upward Bound students will participate in regular freshmen courses will not complete the summer until August 11.

Black Student Suspensions In South Hit By National Education Assoc.

WASHINGTON — The National Education Association (NEA) says that a survey of about 10 per cent of school districts in 11 Southern states showed that 14,886 students, mostly black, have been expelled or suspended from high school since the summer of 1970.

In addition, the NEA said, 33,881 students were involved in school walkouts, boycotts, or demonstrations in the 256 districts surveyed, and 3,270 were arrested as a result of incidents largely growing out of racial clashes at recently desegregated schools.

"How to help get these displaced students back in school or to help keep them continue their education in some other manner is the problem the NEA says it is trying to work out."

256 Districts Checked

The NEA said the preliminary information was based on data compiled from 256 school districts from July, 1970, to May, 1971.

The national school group said it made the survey after reviewing a report in March that thousands of questionable suspensions and other actions had occurred in Alabama, Arkansas, J. oda, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia.

Contributors to the survey in addition to the NEA were the Southern Regional Council, the Delta Ministry, and the Misissippi Teaching Association. The Mississippi group reported between 23,000 and 30,000 students of school age were out of school in that state alone.

"Only Scratched Surface" Material from the Southern Regional Council came largely out of a survey of 20 per cent of the newspapers published in the 11 states but "our report only scratched the surface of what's going on" according to Leon Hall, field director of the council's school desegregation project.

"The truth is that violence this year has more than doubled according to gross accounts, and a d thousands of our youth are in jail or roaming the streets because they are prohibited from attending class, and not able to find jobs because they cannot obtain their high school diplomas," Hall said.

The NEA said many of the suspensions and expulsions "had resulted from demonstrations or boycott by black students and parents protesting closing the formerly all-black schools and desegregation of the students to formerly all-white schools.

Some black students also were suspended or expelled for demonstrating to protest the hiring or desegregation of black teachers, counselors, and school administrators, the NEA said.
