AMERICAN BLACKS SHARE JAMAICAN HERITAGE

In Dr. Abernathy's party were his wife; his executive assistant, Rev. Bernard Scott Lee, Chairman of the Economic Arm of the SCLC-backed Operation Breadbasket, Rev. Dr. William A. Jones, Jr. and Mrs. Jones; and Trevor Spence of Restruct Travel Bureau, New York.

He said he plans to adapt Jamaica's Labor Day Program in the United States, and also to turn in a few weeks with a group of 200 people from the Atlanta and New York areas. The accent will be on cultural and social education.

"I'm a Jamaican," he said. "So are all my black brothers and sisters in America. Not only do I join in the sentiments of Dr. Martin Luther King when he said 'in Jamaica I first felt like a man and a human being,' but, indeed and in fact, black Americans have a physical link with Jamaica. American blacks are the descendants of African slaves from Africa who were first brought to Jamaica and then sold to plantations in the U.S. South. I find I still have many relatives here in Jamaica."
CRIMINAL ENCENDRISAM

In last week's article we discussed the investigation of arson and its legal aspects. We must not forget that there are many people who are involved in criminal incendiarism, whether or not they are aware of it. Last year, the Sheriffs' Community Relations Bureau received many reports of arson. In some cases, the arsonists were caught in the act, while in others, the crime was never solved. However, we should always keep the possibility of criminal incendiarism in mind when we think of fires.

A case in point was a fire that began in a building in the city of...on... when... The fire was reported to the police, who immediately investigated the scene. They found that the fire had been started by... and that it was a criminal act. The investigators were able to determine that the arsonist was... who had a history of criminal incendiarism. The case was taken to the... for trial.

In another case, a woman was arrested for... She had been charged with... and the prosecutors were able to prove that she had... She was... and... was sentenced to... years in prison.

These are only two examples of the many cases of criminal incendiarism that occur each year.
It is important that we remain vigilant and report any suspicious activity to the police.

Tragic Accident Deaths Of 3 Young Women Mourned By Co-Workers

In a few days funeral services will be held for three attractive young women who were killed instantly in a car-truck collision Wednesday afternoon shortly before noon at 96th Street and Fwers Avenue.

All three were students or former students of University of South Florida and employed by the Tampa Youth Development Program, an office that is still mourning their tragic loss.

Gloria Sheppard, 23, Gloria Davis, 19, and Valena Sykes, both 22, were killed instantly when the 1905 cheesy in which they were riding, driven by 23-year-old Michael Smith, 2207 N. Grady, was struck by a monstrous impact when it turned in front of a semi-trailer truck driven by Elmer E. Jarrel, 41, 4911 30th Street.

Troopers B. B. Justice and H. L. Hoel said Smith was traveling north on 96th Street when he made a left turn into the path of the truck.

Smith received numerous injuries and was in a fair condition at University Community Hospital in the intensive care unit. Jarrel was treated and released from the hospital.

The highway patrol office said charges are pending until Smith's condition improves.

Gloria Sheppard graduated from the University of Tampa in May and was working part-time in that institution.

She has been an employee in the city of Tampa youth program for more than a year and was very effective in her duties, according to her supervisor, the Unesco, director of the Office of Community Relations who handled the Youth Board.

Justice Games

For years it was merely the inhumane treatment imposed on prison inmates that attracted the attention of concerned people. Now we have reached a stage, with the matter of whether we have reached the point of turning out of our prisons more individuals who, instead of being rehabilitated, come out worse beings to society than they went in. The entire criminal justice system is under pressure. It cannot provide. At this moment, we must start to do something about its lack of adequate financing, its too-often sub-standard personnel and its oftentimes inadequate treatment of defendants and prisoners. Rehabilitation in most institutions is but a joke.

Rep. Gwen Cherry of Miami in a recommendations and reforms for the Lowell Prison for Women that the problem of ill-conducting offenders upon release to further pursue their areas of training needs to be worked out by law and practice. The recommendation also noted that many of the women at Lowell rarely receive visitors, and that one of the reasons was for improved mental and physical health.

Down in Houston, Texas, a teenage boy was sentenced to 10 years for the murder of a rapist-teenager girl. The point of the outrage is that we are going to have to be able to hold our own, to advocate, to carry all the odds in the system.

Cooperative Education Scholarship Fund for Students Now Paying Off

It is not often that a group of High School students have such a concern for a fellow student. The Cooperative Education students of Hillsborough County, some two thousand (2,000) strong, three years ago organized a scholarship fund for the purpose of helping some worthy Cooperative Education students get started in their chosen field - be it college, trade school, business school, etc. Offered was a class of post high school. After three years of operation, the scholarship fund has made donations to twenty-nine (29) Cooperative Education students that have gone into many areas of education and business.

This year among the group of fifteen seniors receiving scholarship donations of one hundred dollars ($100) or more was Carolyn Richardson, an honor student from Chamberlain High (D.C.T.)

Convict Boxer Gets A Boost For Olympics

NEW YORK — Clifford H. Buck, president of the U. S. Olympic Committee, said yesterday he expected convict boxer Bobby Lee Hunter to compete in the 1972 Summer Games at Munich if he makes the team and he believes he will.

"I am unaware of any rule that would prevent him from taking part in the Olympics at Munich," Buck said. "Hunter is taking part in a training, raising money and a national restaurant chain."

The U.S. Olympic Committee, with a goal of raising $1 million in contributions to pay the bills for training, travel, equipment and housing for the young men and Olympic teams, is said to be some $2 million short at this point.

The Red Barn System of the Sarasota Corporation is sponsoring a drive, through telemarketers, to help promote collections.

"This is the only nation in the world with an Olympic supported financially by the people and not by government," said Owens, who'll be an official guest at Munich next month.

"I have been invited to attend but declined because he preferred not to leave his family which includes two daughters, age 19 and 15.

"I am certainly not going to compete," said Oerter, a data-system expert with the Grumman Corp. "I'm 35 and I haven't competed in three years."

"He is, however, in magnificent trim. Recently, he dropped 60 pounds and now weighs "only" 205 — a significant 30 pounds,

The rugged Bonavena went the distance with Frazier twice, losing a 15-round decision to him in 1959 and a 12-round in 1968 after the former heavyweight champion knocked Frazier down twice in the first fight.

"No comment," he said.

SAN FRANCISCO — Undislat­ed George Foreman and Oscar Bonavena — both hoping for a shot at heavyweight champion Joe Frazier — signed contracts for a 15-round bout on Sept. 30. Promoter Henry C. Winston, who announced the signing, said it was reached late last week and will be televised on Sports in Enterprises Inc. of Washington, D. C., throughout the United States and South America.

Bonavena, a native of Houston, has scored 35 knockouts in winning all of his 36 pro fights. Bonavena dropped a close 15-round decision to former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson in his last outing.

State Trooper Dream Comes True For 7-Foot Cager Burrows

PENSACOLA — Pensacola Bur­rows, the formet 7-foot star of Jacksonville University's basketball team, is poised to po­lice riot squad in what the young black athlete calls a "boyhood dream come true."

Burrows is only the third mem­ber to really join the Florida Highway Patrol.

"If they put me in a real riot situation and I'm on the other side from a group of blacks, we'll enforce the law without regard for race," said Burrows, who set field goal records at Jacksonville and Brownwood Junior College in Corsicana, Texas.

"I always wanted to be a state trooper," he said, "ever since I was a little boy in West Palm Beach.

"Last winter, during my senior year in Jacksonville, I worked for the Doral County Sheriff's depart­ment as a juvenile for justice. It was part of a program to keep kids out of trouble."

The 23-year-old police rookie who majored in physical education, ap­plied for the job last November and became a trooper last month upon graduation from Jacksonville College.

HCN will be an official guest at Munich next month.

"The highway patrol is a great organization. I love it. I mean I really like it."

He said he has encountered no discrimination joining the force, and he urged other young blacks to follow in his giant footsteps.

"The patrol has very high qual­ity requirements. Anybody who can meet these qualifications can get the job. The pay could be better, but it's a good job," said Burrows.

Burrows said he makes $598 a month. He rents a room in a pri­vate Pensacola home, where he lives alone. Burrows didn't play basketball until his senior year at Roosevelt High School in West Palm Beach. He went on to gain all-district and all-state awards in junior college.

What does he think about high militancy and civil rights move­ments? "Not a thing," he said.

A couple of months ago there was a lot of talk hereabouts concerning Tampa and a profes­sional basketball franchise. If you can remember I wrote at that time that I didn't think we would support a profes­sional basketball team, but I have kept up with what has happened with professional bas­ketball down through the years. I just didn't think it would work. Now the Floridians have been disbanded and the players scattered to the winds. Now this does not mean that Tampa wouldn't support a profes­sional basketball team but it makes me feel more that I was right all the time.

Meanwhile I can't help but think about all the success Coach Hugh Durham is having with his all-black Florida State Seminole basketball team. Coach Durham realized a feat and set out to get something that if you can't deny them, I firmly believe that we would still have basket­ball at the University of Tampa. I had a plan similar to Coach Durham's been followed. Former University of Tampa coach Dana Kirk was a friend of mine — but I must say I think he made the mistake of losing some of his stars instead of throwing curtail in the wind and going for a win­ning team.

I may be wrong but I do know a lot of fine black players should have been at the Univer­sity of Tampa and they weren't. If we could have an all black basketball team at the University of Tampa with the best black players in the area and the team I can't help but believe that we would still have basketball at the University of Tampa. Winning teams don't get cut off. Winning is the thing. Black players in basket­ball means winning. Now who is to argue the issue.

SAN FRANCISCO — Juan Marichal could be the star of the San Francisco Giants' pitching staff, was hospitalized with lower back pain Monday, one day after becoming the major league's first 15-game loser this season.

Marichal was in traction at St. Luke's Hospital to relieve a sharp pain in the lower back.

Back Pain Hospitalizes Marichal

In Marichal's 10 defeats he has been shut out four times, including the last two, and beaten four games by a single run. When asked about Marichal, Manager Charlie Fox said: "There might be a few changes around here. You can never tell what will happen with the June 15, deadline, coming up. Maybe somebody will come up with a sleeper for us."

Rumors of a possible trade of Marichal to Pittsburgh floated last week but owner Horace Stoneham issued a sharp denial.

Meanwhile, the Giants begin a three-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates starting Tuesday night.

Marichal said he felt "much better" after resting Monday and planned to listen to the game on the radio.

Brown's Wife Gets Settlement

CLEVELAND — Susie Brown, former wife of former pro football star Jim Brown, was awarded $20,000 annual alimony Monday by a divorce court judge in Cleveland.

She also was granted $15,600 a year for the couple's three children, age 10 to 18.

Mrs. Brown divorced the former Cleveland Browns player, now a movie actor Jan. 8.

SPORT AN TIC FLOODS—By W ill iam O. BETH EL

LADIES AND MAJOR SPORTS

In one of my last articles I attempted to express how impor tant major sports are to the sports world. I still feel that the ladies of today understand sports much more than ladies of the past. Yet, I am still inclined to believe that Joe Fra zier is in no hurry to get back in the ring with Muhammad All again. Frazier knows that even if he wins he is going to absorb tremendous punishment again. I also feel that Frasier is not the same fighter as the first time around.Fraser of the National Basketball Association, Washington, D.C., was a pool shooter. Although he sank an eight ball, he was a pool shooter. Although he knocks all of his off and sinks the eight ball. If a lady expresses any interest the game should take time with his fair lady to understand the game and to explain the par system and how the scoring goes. Choices are also up to the individual and one should not be pressured or forced to shoot if not interested.

LEARNING TO SHOOT POOL

As far as shooting pool myself I have never been very good at the game of pool. The game is considerably called in Europe, but in America very, very few people seem to know anything about the game. I have noticed that most ladies want to learn the game of pool. The game most commonly played is called Billiard. The broad jump in track and field the same as the long jump and the high jump. The long jump are one of the same.

But Patterson, speaking at a dinner at the Pope Pius School for Boys near his home in New Paltz, N.Y., revealed Monday that he announced that he would fight Ali again. "I wasn't supposed to tell anyone about the fight," said the 37-year-old former two-time heavyweight champion. "But I'm going to fight Mohammad Ali in Madison Square Garden on Aug. 28. It was supposed to be announced all fought with Jerry Quarry later this month. If anyone calls and asks me, I'll tell you," he said. Patterson didn't have to deny it. The Garden people did it for him. "We've been working on it," ad mitted Garden rabident John Con don, "but it's not made yet. We've got the Patterson people and the Ali people on a date, but we don't have a fight planned until the 15-year-old Ali fights again. I'll tell you what's going on. Floyd's talking as if the fight's made, but nobody is official on it as of now."

The probability of the fight coming off is very, very slim. It's an ideal match. Two fighters who have great crowd appeal. A full house would come and see if Floyd could avoid getting knocked out like he did seven years ago.

The first time they met on Nov. 30, 1971, at the Garden, Patterson was humiliated and the result was decided by a knockout. Floyd knocked out Patterson with a round when Floyd knocked out Patterson with a round when Floyd knocked out Patterson with a round when Floyd knocked out Patterson with a round when Floyd knocked out Patterson with a round when Floyd knocked out Patterson with a round when Floyd knocked out Patterson with a round when Floyd knocked out Patterson with a round when Floyd knocked out Patterson with a round when Patterson had Coach Charles Perdue and George Chavalou and he has two coming up. The first is a return jug with Jerry Quarry in Las Vegas on June 27 and then over to Dublin to fight Ali (Blue) Lewis on July 19. Ali's lost once to 35 fights and that was to champion Joe Frasier in Baltimore, but at 35 years old.

A fight with Patterson shouldn't jeopardize Ali's chances of another title fight.

M. SYLVESTER KING

NEW YORK — In a 3-to-2 vote, the Board of Education approved School Chancellor Harvey S. Scribner's provisional appointment of M. Sylvester King, a former Harlem Education Center, to the principal of a state supervisors in the city's school system. Opposition to the appointment has caused a delay in approval at a previous meeting.

The school board named M. Sylvester King, a former Harlem principal once charged by a state watchdog committee with discrimination, and with harassing union teachers after the 1956 teachers' strike.

King, a 63-year-old black, now serves as a director of the Development Division of the Urban Development Center, 139 Madison Ave. Last month, Murray Bergtraum, Queens member of the board, challenged King's record on the basis of the harassment charges.

Voces His Approval
But Bergtraum endorsed King saying: "I feel he is a man of high moral character who will carry out his duties impartially."

King had the support also of board President Isaac Rubenstein and Joseph Mineo, Bronx member, who said: "We do not wish to further polarize the school system along the racial lines which led the strike of 1956."

King's $53,000-a-year position becomes effective on his assignment by the chancellor.

Famu Alumni Raise
$110,000 For Scholarships

TALLAHASSEE — Florida A & M alumni chapters throughout the country have raised $110,000 for scholarship funds, FAMU's National Alumni President Dr. Leonard Johnson said during Rededication weekend.

Johnson's announcement of the results of a year-long fund-raising effort highlighted FAMU's "Rededication Weekend" on campus, June 2, 3, and 4, in which an estimated 1,500-5,000 alumni returned to their alma mater.

Although the amount was $50,000 less than the goal set by Johnson last November, he said it was the largest amount ever raised by FAMU alumni.

A similar drive last year netted $80,000.

"We are very optimistic about getting the rest," Dr. Johnson said. "We have to have the additional $50,000 by homecoming next fall."

As one way of raising funds for the scholarship drive, alumni signed up for life insurance policies with each dividend earmarked for the foundation.

As of noon Saturday, June 3, alumni had taken out policies valued at $80,000.
